U.S. Bombers, Troops Seek To Lift Camp Siege

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers swept in from all over the country while allied commandos battled over hilly terrain today in an attempt to lift the siege of a tiny U.S. Special Forces camp surrounded by well entrenched North Vietnamese troops.

Both sides were clinging stubbornly to their positions at last report following 30 hours of fighting.

Illumination fires dropped from the air revealed grotesque scene of twisted enemy bodies strung out along the perimeter of the isolated Green Beret camp at Duc Lap, 130 miles northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. Command poured in all available firepower to dislodge the estimated 1,000 to 3,000 North Vietnamese soldiers surrounding the allied force of at least 15 American Special Forces troops and 400 South Vietnamese.

Large numbers of fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships swooped in from bases throughout South Vietnam to provide continuous protective fire for the outnumbered defenders. Heavy B52 bombers followed in waves of ten, raining 300 tons of explosives on enemy ground. Many bombs fell within three miles of the Green Berets.

Meanwhile, more than 300 American and South Vietnamese commandos, airlifted into the area by helicopters, battled to within three miles of the beleaguered allied camp. They were last reported at a district headquarters that came under a mortar barrage and ground assault about the same time the Special Forces camp was first attacked early Friday.

A U.S. officer said the district headquarters, manned by about 100 South Vietnamese militiamen and a handful of Americans, was "pretty much demolished," but that the allies managed to hold on until the commandos arrived. South Vietnamese spokesmen reported at least 65 enemy killed, while allied casualties were listed as light.

Only four miles from the Cambodian border, Duc Lap watches over enemy infiltration routes into South Vietnam.

Enemy forces zeroed in on another important American base guarding the jungled northwest infiltration corridor to Saigon.

A 25th Infantry Division fire base near Dau Tieng, about 50 miles northwest of the capital, came under a rain of enemy rocket fire that knocked out or damaged two tanks and eight armored troop carriers.

Fighting also flared outside Saigon, but elsewhere the enemy appeared to have eased off—at least for the present—a series of weeklong rocket, mortar and ground attacks up and down the countryside. Only a handful of attacks were reported in today's military communiques.

In political developments, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said in Can Tho Friday he does not believe that U.S. presidential candidates who advocate American withdrawal from Vietnam will be elected.

"I don't think the American people will vote for those people," he said.

Thieu also defended the government's jailing of runnerup presidential candidate Truong Dinh Dzu for advocating negotiations with the National Liberation Front. Dzu's jailing has been criticized in the United States.

"Since we are a constitutional government which respects law and justice, we have to make the difference between men who respect it and men who don't," he said.

Favorite Sons, Uncommitted Blocs

HHH First-Ballot Victory Tied To Two Key Points

CHICAGO (AP) — Southern favorite sons and large uncommitted Northern blocs hold the key to whether Hubert H. Humphrey can win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot, The Associated Press poll showed Friday.

More than two-thirds of the 521 votes from the 11 Deep South states are held by favorite sons, while there are still large numbers of uncommitted delegates in New Jersey, California, Illinois and New York.

The poll, based on primary results, public pledges and AP delegate checks, gives Humphrey a solid first ballot strength of 849 votes—compared with 1,312 needed to win the nomination. Only solidly committed delegates are included, not those leaning to a candidate.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota continues to trail Humphrey by about 375 votes with 475, while Sen. George S. McGovern has 35. Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia, the fourth declared candidate, has none pending the seating and selection of the disputed delegation from his home state.

A total of 419½ votes are held by favorite sons, 828½ are uncommitted and 13 are scattered.

Humphrey's biggest pickup this week has been 11½ votes in Maine after Sen. Edmund S. Muskie abandoned his favorite son candidacy and supported the vice president. More of the state's 27-vote delegation is expected to support Humphrey by next week.

The major McCarthy gain came when Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa endorsed the Minnesota senator, who picked up 8½ previously uncommitted votes in the state. McCarthy also gained three previously uncommitted votes in Michigan.

MOSCOW (AP) — Talks between Czechoslovak and Soviet leaders apparently ran beyond schedule today, suggesting a snag even while broadcasts from Czechoslovakia reported its leaders had won significant concessions.

A radio station identifying itself as Czechoslovakia One reported President Ludvik Svoboda had concluded "an honorable agreement" with the Russians. It offered no details.

A broadcast on the wavelength of the clandestine Radio Prague said Alexander Dubcek, the Czechoslovak Communist party chief whose liberalization program prompted the Soviet bloc invasion Tuesday night, "is to resume his functions in the next few days."

Shortly after 3 p.m. traffic was stopped on the highway leading from the Kremlin to the airport in preparation for the departure of Svoboda's delegation.

Then, without explanation, the highway and bridge were reopened and a crowd which had been waiting to see the motorcade was dispersed.

Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik, both of whom had been restricted when Russian troops occupied Prague, were reported to have joined Svoboda's delegation for the second round of talks today.

Exchanges in the opening session Friday were described by Soviet news media as "frank," a word that in Communist usage here means disagreement.

Reliable Communist sources reported the arrival of Dubcek, the Communist party chief, and Cernik, the premier, whose whereabouts had been a mystery since their detention three days ago in Prague.

Communist diplomatic circles also reported some optimism about progress of the talks, but further details were not available.

Dubcek And Cernik Released, Join Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — Free radio broadcasts said today Soviet chiefs have released liberal Czechoslovak leaders Alexander Dubcek and Oldrich Cernik to join the talks in Moscow over the future of their occupied country.

Dubcek, the popular Communist party chief who halted 20 years of Stalinist-type rule in January, and Cernik, the premier, were arrested soon after Soviet bloc troops invaded Czechoslovakia Tuesday night to crush the liberalization drive. There has been speculation about their fate ever since.

The talks in Moscow opened Friday with President Ludvik Svoboda at the head of an eight-man Czechoslovak delegation. There have been signs he disagreed with the Soviets, presumably over Russian efforts to set up a puppet government in Czechoslovakia.

"Dubcek" is the name defiant Czechoslovaks have been painting on walls and chanting at the occupation troops. The Soviet Union has attacked the party leader as a betrayer of Communist ideals. The Communist hard-liners feared that freedom of the press and other reforms Dubcek installed would lead to liberal ferment in their countries.

Travelers leaving Czechoslovakia said controls are tightening there under the estimated 200,000 Soviet bloc occupation troops and many persons have been arrested.

During curfew hours in Prague Friday night, heavy shooting broke out—20 minutes of sporadic firing, possibly from snipers, followed by five minutes of heavy machine-gun bursts, apparently in response.

It was impossible to learn whether there were any casualties from the shooting near the dormitory or from small arms fire heard near Venceslas Square.

In Moscow, official early reports said Svoboda's talks with Kremlin leaders were being conducted "in a frank, comradely atmosphere." The Communists usually use "frank" to mean a clash in viewpoints.

Telling the Czechoslovaks in a radio broadcast to "have trust in me," the 65-year-old Czechoslovak president left for Moscow Friday after reportedly refusing to agree to a Soviet-imposed government under hard-line Communist Alois Indra.

Three high Czechoslovak officials have been identified as willing to collaborate with the occupation forces. Two of them, Indra and Slovak Communist party chief Vasil Bilak, are among the seven men who accompanied Svoboda to Moscow.

In his broadcast Friday, Svoboda told his countrymen, "I expect to be back tonight." But Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the talks will continue today and Bilak told one newsman: "Svoboda will stay here until negotiations are concluded."

But the president is on record as saying "there is no way back" from freedom for Czechoslovakia. Liberal Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Jiri Haek, now in New York, said in Brussels Friday Svoboda is a man of great courage, honesty and wisdom, but "he did not choose well those who went with him" to Moscow.

Radio Plzen said a Czechoslovak army spokesman told its interviewer that Soviet troops demanded Friday night that the Czechoslovak garrison hand over their weapons but the Czechoslovak troops refused. The radio said the Czechoslovak army will stand by Svoboda.

McGovern's 'Confident'

Bids To Nip HHH's First Ballot Aim

Unveils Viet Peace Plan Endorsed By Himself, McCarthy

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., the man with the nearly impossible dream of becoming President, is leading a lancers' charge on the gates of Hubert H. Humphrey's Democratic convention redoubt.

Possessed by his own estimate of only about one-tenth of the 1,312 needed for the party presidential nomination in next week's convention, McGovern strode smilingly to a hotel news conference platform Friday evening as the first of the candidates to appear on the sweltering Chicago scene.

If he failed to convince the hard-shelled politicians that he has even a remote chance of winding up with the top nomination, he displayed confidence that his belated entry into the fray will help keep Vice President Humphrey from waltzing off with the prize on the first ballot.

McGovern unveiled a proposed Vietnam peace platform plank he said had been personally endorsed by both him and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., Humphrey's chief rival for the nomination.

It called for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, withdrawal of opposing forces from the South, and pressure on the Saigon government to "negotiate a political reconciliation" with the communist National Liberation Front.

This platform plank quickly got an endorsement from a score of the 110 convention platform Committee, with the proviso that if the majority rejects it there will be a fight on the convention floor for its adoption.

Humphrey has opposed any interim coalition government in Saigon and has insisted that Hanoi must make some reciprocal gesture to end the bombing.

Meanwhile, the convention's Rules Committee voted to scrap the unit rule, substituting a "freedom of conscience" proposal to permit all delegates to vote as they want.

Texas, who fought the reform with vows to walk out or to try to launch a drive for President Johnson's renomination, were expected to try to reverse the action on the convention floor.

Slight Break Looms In Searing Weather

A slight break is promised over the weekend in the hot and humid weather.

For the first time in days the word "Cooler" has worked its way into the forecast.

The outlook is for continued warm and humid tonight, with a chance of showers. Sunday is to be partly cloudy, turning a little cooler and less humid. Some showers are likely.

Ike Suffers 'Irregular' Heart Beats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered new attacks of irregular and rapid heart beats early today, his doctors at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital announced.

In a statement released at 11 a.m. EDT the doctors said: "After a very good day and night, Gen. Eisenhower again had a recurrence of marked cardiac irritability this morning with frequent extra beats and two short episodes of very rapid heart action. He is now resting comfortably but remains in critical condition."

Walter Reed doctors have explained that the term heart irritability means irregular and rapid heart beats, which is considered a dangerous symptom for the 77-year-old five-star general fighting to overcome effects of his seventh heart attack.

Today's medical report was the first indication of renewed difficulties in Eisenhower's battle for survival over the past 24 hours. Medical bulletins Friday emphasized that the general remained in critical condition but said his condition generally was stable.

Skydivers Perform Tonight

County Fair To Wind Up With Sunday's Program

LISBON — Three Lisbon skydivers will perform over the Columbiana County fairgrounds at 8 tonight.

The scheduled ascension and parachute drop by 81-year-old John Oliver, hot - air balloonist, remains questionable.

He checked in at the secretary's office at 10 this morning, saying he expects to perform today. Directors are trying to dissuade him, however, because of the weather. They point out he would have to be out in the broiling sun for a couple of hours supervising the wood fire to fill the balloon.

Oliver had to cancel scheduled ascensions Thursday and Friday. His last performance was at the County Fair here in 1959.

Filling the gap last night were Vic Mattevi of Lisbon RD 4 and Jay Hill and Vince Weyant, both of Lisbon. They are members of the Alliance Sky-Divers Club which works out on Salem Airport on Route 45.

They jumped from the same plane piloted by Paul Birtalan of Salem, who has been flying jumpers since the sport became popular in this area. A year ago, Birtalan received an award for 5,000 hours of flying jumpers without a mishap.

Mattevi is a sergeant first class in an Army reserve Green Beret unit (11th special forces, airborne) and is area safety officer for sport parachutists. He made a pinpoint landing onto the fairgrounds Thursday night when the balloonist could not appear because of illness.

George Vokovich of Lisbon, the club's photographer, handled the PA system microphone last night.

The temperature hit the mid-90's again Friday, the fifth consecutive day of above-90 readings. More of the same is predicted today.

Directors estimated Friday's attendance at 17,000 compared with 15,000 for the same day last year. Sixty - five residents of the County Home were guests yesterday.

Cooler weather — in the 80's — is expected Sunday as the five-day exposition draws to a close. Church services, with special music by the Senior Citizens Choir, will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the grandstand.

Exhibits will open at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. Special events will begin at 1, with the Rainbow Girls drill team from Hanover performing under the direction of Mrs. Helen Stoudt of Hanover. The team won the state novice division contest at the Rainbow Assembly this year.

Four high school bands will participate in a concert at 1

Parade Set At Hookstown Fair Tonight

HOOKSTOWN — A machine and livestock parade at 7 and concert by the Bethel United Methodist Church will be features of the Hookstown Fair tonight, ending the four - day event.

Horse - pulling contests were held this morning and this afternoon and a stage show was presented as the final day's fare.

Prizes will be awarded tonight at 10. The Northwestern Square Dancers of Northwestern High School will also be a part of the entertainment this evening.

More than 17,000 attended the fair Friday night, fair officials reported.

Frantic Guests Flee

Cleveland Hotel Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frantic hotel guests, many of them still in their nightclothes, jumped to safety through windows and slid down gutters into the arms of waiting firemen when fire swept through the Ohio Hotel early today.

One man, John Borg, 73 was admitted to St. Vincent Charity Hospital in guarded condition after jumping through a window and colliding with a fireman. A hospital spokesman said Borg suffered multiple fractures.

Rent-A-Baby! What's Next?

CHICAGO (AP) — A photographer took a picture of a young woman with a baby strapped to her back during a demonstration in Civic Center Plaza Friday. Afterward, he sought to learn her identity and was given a number of facetious replies. So he asked the name of the baby. "Oh, I don't know," she replied. "It isn't mine. It's a rent-a-baby."

U.S. Bombers, Troops Seek To Lift Camp Siege

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers swept in from all over the country while allied commandos battled over hilly terrain today in an attempt to lift the siege of a tiny U.S. Special Forces camp surrounded by well entrenched North Vietnamese troops.

Both sides were clinging stubbornly to their positions at last report following 30 hours of fighting.

Illumination fires dropped from the air revealed grotesque scene of twisted enemy bodies strung out along the wire perimeter of the isolated Green Beret camp at Duc Lap, 130 miles northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. Command poured in all available firepower to dislodge the estimated 1,000 to 3,000 North Vietnamese soldiers surrounding the allied force of at least 15 American Special Forces troopers and 400 South Vietnamese.

Large numbers of fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships swooped in from bases throughout South Vietnam to provide continuous protective fire for the outnumbered defenders. Heavy B52 bombers followed in waves of ten, raining 300 tons of explosives on enemy ground. Many bombs fell within three miles of the Green Berets.

A U.S. officer said the district headquarters, manned by about 100 South Vietnamese militiamen and a handful of Americans, was "pretty much demolished," but that the allies managed to hold on until the commandos arrived. South Vietnamese spokesmen reported at least 65 enemy killed, while allied casualties were listed as light.

Only four miles from the Cambodian border, Duc Lap watches over enemy infiltration routes into South Vietnam.

Enemy forces zeroed in on another important American base guarding the jungled northwest infiltration corridor to Saigon.

A 25th Infantry Division fire base near Dau Tieng, about 50 miles northwest of the capital, came under a rain of enemy rocket fire that knocked out or damaged two tanks and eight armored troop carriers.

Fighting also flared outside Saigon, but elsewhere the enemy appeared to have eased off—at least for the present—a series of weeklong rocket, mortar and ground attacks up and down the countryside. Only a handful of attacks were reported in today's military communiques.

"I don't think the American people will vote for those people," he said.

Thieu also defended the government's jailing of runnerup presidential candidate Truong Dinh Dzu for advocating negotiations with the National Liberation Front. Dzu's jailing has been criticized in the United States.

"Since we are a constitutional government which respects law and justice, we have to make the difference between men who respect it and men who don't," he said.

Favorite Sons, Uncommitted Blocs

HHH First-Ballot Victory Tied To Two Key Points

CHICAGO (AP) — Southern favorite sons and large uncommitted Northern blocs hold the key to whether Hubert H. Humphrey can win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot, The Associated Press poll showed Friday.

More than two-thirds of the 521 votes from the 11 Deep South states are held by favorite sons, while there are still large numbers of uncommitted delegates in New Jersey, California, Illinois and New York.

The poll, based on primary results, public pledges and AP delegate checks, gives Humphrey a solid first ballot strength of 849 votes—compared with 1,312 needed to win the nomination. Only solidly committed delegates are included, not those leaning to a candidate.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota continues to trail Humphrey by about 375 votes with 475, while Sen. George S. McGovern has 35. Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia, the fourth declared candidate, has none pending the seating and selection of the disputed delegation from his home state.

A total of 419½ votes are held by favorite sons, 828½ are uncommitted and 13 are scattered.

Humphrey's biggest pickup this week has been 11½ votes in Maine after Sen. Edmund S. Muskie abandoned his favorite son candidacy and supported the vice president. More of the state's 27-vote delegation is expected to support Humphrey by next week.

The major McCarthy gain came when Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa endorsed the Minnesota senator, who picked up 8½ previously uncommitted votes in the state. McCarthy also gained three previously uncommitted votes in Michigan.

Frantic Guests Flee Cleveland Hotel Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frantic hotel guests, many of them still in their nightclothes, jumped to safety through windows and slid down gutters into the arms of waiting firemen when fire swept through the Ohio Hotel early today.

One man, John Borg, 73 was admitted to St. Vincent Charity Hospital in guarded condition after jumping through a window and colliding with a fireman. A hospital spokesman said Borg suffered multiple fractures.

Rent-A-Baby! What's Next?

CHICAGO (AP) — A photographer took a picture of a young woman with a baby strapped to her back during a demonstration in Civic Center Plaza Friday. Afterward, she sought to learn her identity and was given a number of facetious replies. So he asked the name of the baby. "Oh, I don't know," she replied. "It isn't mine. It's a rent-a-baby."

Calls For Early Peace

War Critics OK Plank; Will Fight For Adoption

CHICAGO (AP) — Critics of the Vietnam War have agreed on a plank calling for early peace and promised to fight for its adoption at the Democratic Convention.

They pledged an appeal to the convention itself if—as expected—they are outvoted in the official platform committee. Such a fight could delay the presidential and vice presidential nominations next week.

The plank, announced Friday night, is acceptable to Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Sen. George McGovern but appears unacceptable to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the front-runner for the nomination.

It includes four major points: 1. An end to all bombing of North Vietnam, while continuing to provide in the South all necessary air and other support for U.S. troops.

2. Phased, mutual withdrawal of all U.S. forces and all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam over "a relatively short period of time."

3. Encouraging South Vietnam to negotiate a political reconciliation with the National Liberation Front looking toward a government which is "broadly representative of these and all elements in South Vietnamese society."

4. A cut-back of offensive operations in the Vietnamese countryside such as the search and destroy drive against the Viet Cong "to reduce American casualties and the suffering Vietnamese civilians" and make possible an early withdrawal of a significant number of U.S. troops.

The proposed plank adds "we are also resolved to have no more Vietnamese."

The peace proposal gets its first test today when it is presented to the drafting subcommittee of the official platform committee. The subcommittee is trying to complete by tonight a platform draft for consideration by the committee itself. Supporters of Humphrey and President Johnson's Administration make up an apparently substantial majority both of the subcommittee and the committee. The official draft, accordingly, seems certain to recommend a different plank, setting the stage for a floor fight.

The suggested plank, said to have the support of more than 20 members of the 110-member platform committee, avoids direct criticism of Johnson or his administration, saying, "discarding judgment about the wisdom of the past, we must now act to secure and enrich our own future by bringing the war in Vietnam to a swift conclusion."

McCarthy, in a statement, expressed complete accord with the proposed Democratic peace plank and said "by taking this issue to the floor, the Democratic party will now have an opportunity to make a final judgment on the war and a realistic commitment to an early peace."

Spokesmen for the drafting group, which included supporters of McCarthy, and McGovern and others who had supported the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, said McGovern also approved the proposed plank. But the first point alone appeared enough to rule out acceptance by Humphrey. It recommends an unconditional bombing halt while Humphrey has said there can be no total cessation of air attacks on North Vietnam without some reciprocal move.

Group Plans Support For Issue No. 1

The importance of Nov. 3 voter approval of Issue No. 1 and Issue No. 2 to residents of Columbiana County was underscored at a meeting of the Greater Ohio Committee of Southern Columbiana County Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Frank A. Dawson of East Liverpool, chairman, Jacob Urchek, Kent State University aide and former director of the Kent center here, and Paul O'Neil of Columbus, campaign aide, discussed the two issues.

Issue No. 1 provides authority to the General Assembly to issue bonds for financing highway construction and for other statewide programs, such as water pollution curbs, mental health, higher and technical education, and juvenile rehabilitation.

The county's Kent State centers are scheduled to receive $800,000 in funds from the education funds which are proposed.

O'Neil said the public should be made aware that Issue No. 1 will not increase taxes, will create thousands of new jobs and has the backing of Republican and Democrat leaders and labor officials.

All projects in Issue No. 1 would be subject to legislative approval, it was emphasized.

Issue No. 2, which provides property tax exemptions for home owners 65 years old or older, also was termed a need to ease the tax burden upon those with fixed limited incomes.

Films describing the two issues and what is proposed will be available in the East Liverpool and Wellsville areas for clubs and organizations.

Among those attending were State Sen. Robert Stockdale; State Rep. Clarence Wetzel; E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery; Richard King, director of the Kent branch here; James McGowan, George A. Shaw, John Thompson, Glenn Waight and George Barbaree.

Barrier Claims Another Victim

The barrier at the end of the Chester Bridge has claimed another victim.

A camper was demolished and the frame on a truck was bent, East Liverpool police said in a report on the latest incident—Friday at 2:39 p.m.

Julius S. Thompson, 64, of 815 W. Channing St., Fergus Falls, Minn., was driving the 1965 pickup-camper, which struck the barrier.

In another mishap, Ernest Collier, 70, of 306 12th St., Wellsville, driving a 1959 coupe and Leroy F. Chevrone, 17, of Chester RD 1, driving a 1965 truck owned by Conkle Farms, both heading south, collided at the intersection of Jefferson and W. 6th St.

The Collier auto received damage to the left side door and the Conkle Farms truck was damaged on the right front fender.

Car Is Demolished; Driver, 18, Uninjured

An 18-year-old New Cumberland driver escaped injury when his 1967 auto was demolished today at 4 a. m. on Route 2 just south of the New Cumberland city limits.

Dennis Fish of 406 Straight St. told Hancock County deputies he was traveling north on Route 2 when a passing car forced him off the road. Fish's vehicle then struck the hillside. No citation was issued.

Power Breakdowns Hit Columbus Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Repeated breakdowns at the municipal power plant here Friday left most city offices and a number of private concerns without electricity.

Police and fire offices were not affected but many city employees, including the city hall staff, were sent home during the afternoon.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner said he had been told that the emergency was due to a lack of current.

Electrical Superintendent Howard Stemm said that a 25 per cent increase in load coupled with equipment breakdowns led to the crisis.

The well-known catbird was so named because of the sound it makes when frightened—a sound like the meow of a cat.

Loss Of $717 Seen In Entry In Burglaries At Wellsville

Loss was set at $717 in the burglary of a Klondyke furniture store investigated Friday afternoon by East Liverpool police.

The intruders hauled away five Admiral portable television sets from the Adkins Furniture Store at 1910 Harvey Ave., owned by Ruel Adkins, officers said. Ransacking desks and cabinets in the office, the burglars also took $50 in cash and $50 worth of cigarettes and other tobacco products.

The entry was reported to Patrolman Charles A. Winters, desk officer at headquarters, and Patrolman Ronald Brookes was dispatched to investigate. Adkins said the building was entered sometime overnight by a person who forced a window on the southeast side of the store.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Harland Harris of 931 St. Clair Ave. told officers yesterday afternoon a thief took an RCA portable television set from her home sometime between 11 p.m. Thursday and 6:45 a.m. Friday.

Percy Wilton of 776 Minerva St. told officers Friday afternoon an apple hurled by a vandal broke a window on the north side of his home about 11:20 p.m. Thursday.

City Hospital Treats 13 In Emergencies

A Chester woman injured on stairs was admitted Friday to City Hospital, where 12 others were treated.

Mrs. Clarence Harrington of 922 Phoenix Ave. is "fairly good" with a fractured right ankle.

Treated were Samuel Lovett of 1325 Boyce Ave., Wellsville, an abrasion of the right hand when a bumper jack broke while he repaired a tire; Samuel Cataldo Jr., son of Samuel Cataldo of 305 4th St., a left wrist and arm injury while swinging.

Gerald Grimm of South Surrey Rd., an employee of the city, a contusion of the left hand on a garbage truck; Cecil Meek of the Travelers Hotel, an employee of the Cape Construction Co., scalds of the right arm on tar.

Mrs. Harold Maylone Jr. of 1010 Commerce St., a laceration of the right thumb on a can opener; David Ice, son of Ron Ice of 998 1/2 Main St., Wellsville, a fractured right wrist in a fall.

Curtis Emmons, son of Harold Emmons of Chester RD 1, a right index finger injury in a car door; Douglas Dauka, son of Gus Dauka of 628 Broadway Circle, a fractured right fourth finger.

Sue Ann Landers, daughter of William Landers of Georgetown RD 1, a contusion of the right shoulder when a horse pushed her against a stall; James Eberhart, son of James Eberhart of 301 Carolina Ave., a laceration of the left leg in a fall from a bicycle.

Kenneth E. Hall of 7th Ave., LaCroft, a laceration of the left shoulder while installing an air conditioner; Richard Feezle, son of Richard Feezle of East Palestine, a puncture wound of the forehead on a rock.

2 Bound Over In Burglaries At Wellsville

Two Wellsville youths charged with burglaries were bound over to the Columbiana County grand jury Friday by Judge J. L. MacDonald of Southwest Court at Lisbon.

Jerry Wyse, 18, of 1419 Main St. and Donald A. Brewer, 18, of 1621 Commerce St. waived preliminary hearings through Robert Simpson of East Liverpool, court-appointed counsel.

Judge MacDonald entered "not guilty" pleas for the youths Aug. 16 when they appeared before him without money to hire a lawyer. Common Pleas Court appointed Simpson.

Wyse is charged with a burglary Aug. 15 at Betty's Market, 912 Woods St., and Brewer with a burglary Aug. 11 at the Star-Lite Cafe, 1307 Main St., Wellsville.

Both youths are free under bond. A 17-year-old Wellsville youth cited to Juvenile Court in connection with both burglaries is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday.

Jailed At Lisbon

LISBON — Local police jailed Walter J. Hucko, 24, of 323 1st St., Wellsville, Friday night in lieu of a $100 bond on a charge of possession of an open bottle of whisky in a motor vehicle. Police arrested him at 9 p.m. at the fairgrounds. His hearing was set for Tuesday night in mayor's court.

Judge Sifts Motion To Set Aside Barron Indictments

CHARLESTON (AP) — Special Federal Judge L. Robert Martin is considering a defense motion to set aside government indictments against former Gov. W. W. Barron and four associates.

The motion was one of several made Friday following conclusion of the government's case. Barron and the others are charged with conspiring to commit bribery in the awarding of state contracts.

The other defense motions which Judge Martin is reviewing include requests to (1) direct a verdict of acquittal, (2) delete testimony by one government witness, Hollywood, Fla., attorney Judson Samuels, (3) omit certain documents offered by Samuels as evidence and (4) delete 19 of the 25 overt acts listed in the indictment because of the five-year statute of limitations.

Burglars Get Cash, Shoes

LISBON — Burglars broke into the Pickway Shoe Store east of Alliance Friday night and stole the cash register and an unknown quantity of shoes, socks and women's handbags. The store is on Route 62, just inside Columbiana County. Phillip Becker, who lives above the store, returned from a drive-in theater with his family at 1:25 a. m. today and found a side door of the store open and several empty cartons on the ground. He notified authorities. Sheriff's Deputy Richard Koffel said the intruders entered through a door on the east side of the building, prying a piece of plywood off a previously broken window and reaching through to release the night lock. Koffel said the store manager said an inventory will be taken to determine the extent of the loss. The shoes taken were for both adults and children, he said.

Stores Face Padlocking

STEBENVILLE — A drive to close three cigar stores was launched here Friday after padlock proceedings were filed in Common Pleas Court and raids were conducted by city police and state agents. The Rex Cigar Store at 523 Main St., the Recreation Cigar Store, 209 S. 5th St. and Tommy's Lounge, 209 S. 4th St. were targets of the law enforcement officials. Padlock action was filed at 3:30 p.m. and less than 10 minutes later the raids were staged. About 12 city police led by acting Capt. George M. Mavromatis and three state agents conducted the raids. There were no arrests. The raids were concluded shortly after 5 p.m. Several small boxes of paper slips, some writing pads and adding machine were among the items confiscated. Petitions to abate nuisances were filed at 3:30 p.m. against Minnie Prologo and Michael Sidi of Rex's, Val Iachine, Gilbert V. Porreca and William Savinell of the Recreation Cigar and Abraham Issac of Tommy's Lounge. The attorney general charges that the Rex Cigar store was used for gambling between Feb. 1, 1963, and Aug. 1, 1968; that gambling was conducted at the Recreation Cigar Store from Aug. 31, 1962, to July 25, 1968, and that Tommy's Lounge had gambling operations from Nov. 7, 1964, to Aug. 1, 1968. The court is being asked to issue temporary restraining orders against the gambling operation and on final hearing to padlock the places for one year, the maximum under state law. Hearings on the temporary injunction motion have been scheduled for Tuesday Sept. 3 at 9:30 a.m.

Czech Aide Waits Results In Moscow

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek waited today for the outcome of talks between Prague and Moscow leaders to present his country's case before the U.N. Security Council. The 15-nation council has before it a resolution asking Secretary-General U Thant to send a special representative to Prague to "seek the release and ensure the personal safety of the Czechoslovak leaders under detention," including party leader Alexander Dubcek. The eight sponsors did not press it to a vote at a two-hour council meeting Friday night because they wanted to keep the issue alive until they saw how the Moscow discussions went. Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik had signaled that he would veto that resolution, as he did one Friday to condemn the Soviet bloc intervention. U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball told reporters: "We want to keep the council seized of the situation. There was no particular point in going through tonight and having a veto on the resolution. That would lose jurisdiction in the council." The Moscow discussions involved Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda and Soviet officials. A communique from the Soviet capital indicated the talks had struck a snag and said they would continue Saturday. Ball told the council: "There is a suggestion that out of these negotiations may come some agreement. He said, if the Soviet Union, because of world opinion, had second thoughts and allowed the people of Czechoslovakia to organize the political arrangements of their own choosing, then obviously the council should do nothing to interfere. But he added, 'We cannot be at all sure that this going to happen.'" Hajek had arrived in New York a few hours earlier from Yugoslavia, where he was vacationing when Soviet bloc troops invaded Czechoslovakia. The council got a telegram from Deputy Premier Ota Sik, also in Yugoslavia, saying Hajek was "authorized to represent Czechoslovakia."

Four Treated In Accidents

An East Liverpool man and a Wellsville woman were treated at City Hospital and Irondale and Hanoverton youths were treated at Salem City Hospital as the result of two separate accidents Friday. Salvatore Tomaine, 59, of 2023 Lisbon St. and a passenger in his 1964 coach, Marie Miller, 58, of 1024 Commerce St., Wellsville, were treated and released here following an accident on Route 170, about a half-mile north of Route 30 at 8:45 Friday night. The Ohio Highway Patrol said Tomaine was stopped for traffic when his auto was struck in the rear by a 1963 convertible operated by Larue Chapman of 337 Ogden St. A passenger in the Chapman auto, Connie Chapman, 11, complained of injuries, but was not treated, hospital authorities said. Harold A. Steele, 18, of Hanoverton RD 1 and a passenger on his motorcycle, Robert E. Fickle Jr. of Irondale, were treated at Salem City Hospital and released following an accident on Votaw Rd. near Guilford Lake at 12:25 a.m. today. Steele was northbound when he attempted to negotiate a curve, ran off the left side of the road and into a ditch, officers said. He was treated for scratches of the left hand, lacerations of the upper lip and abrasions of the right knee and left leg. Fickle was treated for a laceration of the left hand, bruises of the left hand and wrist and a sprained right ankle. Ronald J. Eells, 17, of Lisbon RD 3 lost control of his 1968 coupe on a curve on Middle Beaver Rd., a mile east of Route 154, ran off the south side of the road and ran off the north side and rolled over. The Ohio Highway Patrol said the accident occurred at 9:10 Friday night. Eells complained of injuries, but was not treated. Heavy damage resulted to his car.

LBJ Signs $21 Billion Highway Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law legislation authorizing a $21 billion national highway program over the next six years and expanding the interstate expressway system. The measure provides $12.3 billion in new money for the Interstate and other federal-aid roads and also allocates about $9 billion of previously-voted funds. In addition, it extends the highway beautification program, a pet project of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's, and establishes a greatly broadened system of relocation payments for persons and businesses displaced by road projects. The Texas White House announced today the presidential signing. The bill adds 1,500 miles to the 41,000 miles already allocated to the interstate system. The date for completion of the interstate system is extended two years, to June 30, 1974, by the legislation. The highway beautification program, while extended, is given only a new $25 million one-year authorization by the measure. Johnson had asked $85 million annually for three years.

Burglars Get Cash, Shoes

LISBON — Burglars broke into the Pickway Shoe Store east of Alliance Friday night and stole the cash register and an unknown quantity of shoes, socks and women's handbags.

The store is on Route 62, just inside Columbiana County. Phillip Becker, who lives above the store, returned from a drive-in theater with his family at 1:25 a. m. today and found a side door of the store open and several empty cartons on the ground. He notified authorities.

Sheriff's Deputy Richard Koffel said the intruders entered through a door on the east side of the building, prying a piece of plywood off a previously broken window and reaching through to release the night lock.

Koffel said the store manager said an inventory will be taken to determine the extent of the loss. The shoes taken were for both adults and children, he said.

Soviet Union Seals Its Doom

The story of blatant aggression unfolding in Czechoslovakia is raising some unanswered questions, but has produced one inescapable conclusion — Russia has sealed its doom and that of old-line communism.

The Czechoslovakian trend toward liberalization and reform came from within the ruling Communist party and had the support of the Czech people.

Encouragement came from Yugoslavia and Romania and from Communist parties in France and Italy.

At the insistence of the Soviet Union, four countries with hard-line Communist leadership joined the effort to purge the liberal regime in Czechoslovakia.

DISREGARDING radio appeals to remain calm and passive, Czech citizens are defying death at the hands of Russian soldiers to voice their objections.

This resistance is symbolic of that existing in every Communist state and it cannot be defeated even by the threat of death.

The desire to be free becomes a part of man when he takes his first breath. He has to be killed to still its persistent voice. And when he dies, there always is another to take his place with redoubled determination.

Sooner or later, the desire for freedom will break forth. Even the nuclear might of the Soviet Union will not thwart it and Russian people will be part of the uprising.

The Russians cannot murder enough intellectuals, writers and artists, or throw enough people in jail, or impose enough restrictions on its own citizens and those in other countries, to stamp out democratization.

The Soviet Union has miscalculated in many ways.

They woefully underestimated young people in the Communist nations. They are the new wave and refuse to be subservient.

They misjudged what has happened in the past 12 years. This is a different world than a decade ago and Czechoslovakia has made more changes than other Communist nations.

By seeking to dominate, the Russians have alienated some of their friends, knocked the underpinnings from those espousing a course of international cooperation and have doubled the determination of their foes.

PUTTING THE Russian boot heel on the Czechs has proved the liberal wing of the Communist party was right and has shown the failure of the hard-liners.

Within the ranks of freedom fighters, a thirst, unquenchable by military might, has been instilled and it must at some time be satisfied with the refreshing water of liberty.

No other course of action by the Soviet Union could have sealed its downfall with more certainty.

No Easy Way

R. L. Cawood, longtime East Liverpool industrial leader who died this week, was more than just a man who achieved notable recognition in a number of fields.

He was a person of special talent, energy and foresight whose ambition and abilities carried him to the pinnacle of success. His was an individualistic observance of older values which many young people of today disdain, but which have been the ingredients of American enterprise since its founding.

He made his mark by choosing his own difficult path, setting his own hard pace, virtues which could be emulated more in an era of the "easy way."

The Pope And His People

Pope Paul VI received a resounding welcome when he arrived in Bogota, Colombia, for the 39th Eucharistic Congress, and, like all other major events today, there is controversy connected with his goodwill visit.

An estimated $100 million has been spent to enable Bogota to put forth a good face while the Pope is its honored guest. In some cases the fronts of buildings and dwellings have been given a fresh coat of paint to hide the stains of poverty. Unexposed sides and backs of the buildings have not been touched.

COLOMBIA is a poor country. Many feel the money could have been put to better use than trying to impress the Pope who is more interested in the spiritual vitality of the nation than its wealth.

Nevertheless, the controversy was shoved into the background when the Pope arrived. The enthusiastic reception for the first pontiff to visit South America in the history of Catholicism left Pope Paul stunned.

Cheering crowds swept aside thoughts of deep divisions within the church and rallied behind their leader.

THEY WERE with the Pope in spirit when he told them he was in Bogota to pray for the world "which has such need of peace" and to plead for "a rational use of so many riches that the Lord has placed in your soil may reach equitably every family and class, in conformity with the principles of justice and Christian charity."

Visits by the Pope may not heal splits within the church but when they evoke a tumultuous welcome like that in Bogota, they demonstrate without a doubt the deep-seated desire for inspired leadership loose in the world today—leadership representative of high principle and worthy goals.

Ageless Satch

Adding some new interest to a waning baseball season that is not overloaded with thrills, is the hiring of Satchel Paige by the Atlanta Braves.

Satch is one baseball player the word venerable describes perfectly. He is somewhere around the age of 62 and has had a fantastic career. He didn't get a crack at the record books because the color bar kept him in the Negro professional leagues.

Although past prime, he did get to display his talent when the Indians brought him into organized baseball 20 years ago. And he thrilled a lot of fans.

Satch needs 158 days on a major league active list to make him eligible for a pension. The stint with the Braves will do that for him.

His new job calls for some pitching instruction and possibly some relief pitching.

We would like to see the ageless wonder perform in the latter capacity and give all our senior citizens a boost.

Transparent Nonsense

Talk of a possible United State boycott of the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City is transparent nonsense.

It seems there are elements within the American Olympic community who feel that this is an appropriate way to protest the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

This attitude, if it really exists, is not only ill-conceived but symbolic of a passion for extremes that is running rampant through the world.

A boycott would solve nothing.

Letters To The Editor

The Salineville and Brush Creek Township communities have lost one of their most loyal citizens in the passing of Mrs. Martha Burgett.

She stood ready to promote anything that was for the good of her community. To illustrate the degree of enthusiasm she held for her community, I mention the contributions she made to make a better environment for the youth and adults of the area.

She taught Sunday School 25 years, was secretary for the Brush Creek Grange for 15 years, was a Brush Creek 4-H adviser 15 years, served on the Brush Creek board of elections for many years, visited shut-ins and corresponded with boys in the service, all while she and her husband, Kenneth, operated a dairy farm and raised four sons.

Martha Burgett is no longer with us, but her influence and rich teachings will live on in the hearts and minds of those who knew and loved her.

Our community and the world are better places because of her wonderful life.

CHARLES E. SPROUSE
Salineville RD 3

On behalf of the boys who represented East Liverpool in the recent Colt "World Series," may I, as their representative, extend their sentiments and thanks to the Tri-State community for the physical, financial and inspirational donations that were given to the Colt All-Star team during the past three weeks of tournament competition.

The telegrams, calls and letters all served to inspire the boys to produce achievements that were above and beyond what some considered their capabilities.

The financial donations given, secured to them, a few pleasantries as a reward for their efforts. For these, and the experiences given and earned, I say for them, "Thank you." It is something that will never be forgotten by any member of the team.

Labor Will Not Forget HHH

CHICAGO: — Most of the smoke-filled hotel rooms in this hyperthyroid city come with wall-to-wall carpeting. Almost everybody is mad at everybody else.

Only where the leaders of the massive unions gather is there unity, fraternity, even if not egalite. There are about 6,000 out-of-town labor leaders of assorted rank here now, and they spend most of their time chanting and cheering for Hubert Humphrey.

They're going to make or break this campaign for the gay and ebullient Vice President. It's all for one, and one for all. And that means Mr. Humphrey has just about the most powerful political machine (with no apologies to Mayor Daley, for he's right in the middle of it) this nation ever has seen.

Nearly all of these labor officials will return to some local union, or joint council, or state office, or international union headquarters, to fight for "HHH."

There's an intellectual conditioned reflex which paints the traditional labor chiefs as high-button-shoes Neanderthals, because so many have had so little formal education. Well, they're mighty bright politicos.

There is, for example, a former freight handler, C. L. Dennis, a union leader who last Monday turned an empty hole into a massive Humphrey demonstration. Not only that, but he got Mayor Daley and Hubert Humphrey into the same picture on the same dais accepting gold-painted shovels.

Mr. Dennis is international president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, which plans to construct a headquarters down the road from the big Chicago airport.

HE ARRANGED TO DECLARE a groundbreaking ceremony, and to top it with an 8 a.m. breakfast in tribute to the Vice President. Eight hundred prestigious guests turned out. Most of them were powerful Chicago labor leaders, running the stretch from the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists to the National Maritime Union. Heavily sprinkled among them were influential railroad and airline executives.

Cheer after cheer rolled over the hot orange juice and cold coffee, as Mr. Humphrey got off quip after quip and reminded his audience that he had been to more local meetings and for much longer, than most business agents.

What's more, he knows more union officials by their first names than does George Meany, Mr. Labor himself. This was obvious to those who were with him last Sunday night out at the O'Hare Inn. He flew in the night before the breakfast though he might have had to turn right around if General Eisenhower had died that night.

Though fatigued, he mixed with Brotherhood officials, and when the Secret Service nervously noted the second floor suite was crowding up, they tried to weed out wives. Mr. Humphrey spotted this quickly, weeded out some of the Secret Service, and posed with the ladies for almost an hour.

This is where the campaign is. Certainly the headline news is in his attack on city jungles, looting and riots. But the machine's the thing. Over at the Hotel Drake, the AFL-CIO's Al Barkan, director of the Committee on Political Education (COPE), is ensconced near George Meany's suite amid data processing statistics and convention floor plans.

BY THE TIME the Democrats get gaveled to order for nominations, Barkan and Meany will know exactly the floor location of the 230 union leaders who are delegates and alternates.

Reports will flow from the COPE and Meany headquarters to the labor delegates, so they can persuade other members of their delegations that it would betray the labor movement not to ballot for Mr. Humphrey.

And from the labor men on the floor, word will feed back on progress and weakness. This will be relayed to the Humphrey inner sanctum, somewhere in that upright concrete jungle known as the Hilton. Whenever necessary, George Meany will lift his direct line to the Vice President. Thus it was in 1960.

Mr. Meany had access to Bob and Jack Kennedy any time he wished, including that famous night when it became known that the presidential nominee had chosen Lyndon Johnson.

Mr. Meany called "Jack" very early that a.m. But Mr. Meany and Mr. Johnson have learned to love each other since — and dearly, too.

This will be a sophisticated political operation, using sophisticated political weaponry — data processing, for example.

Hundreds of Democratic delegates know that the strongest campaign machinery is run by labor in their states. They know that Mr. Barkan's COPE headquarters has at least one million names in California; 300,000 and more in Ohio; 500,000 in Texas; and another million in Pennsylvania (just to mention a few on labor's own computer.)

IN STATE AFTER STATE, these names are on a memory tape in such a fashion that one button can put tens of thousands of activists into action anywhere.

Small wonder that Al Barkan could truthfully tell some of his labor colleagues two weeks ago that "organizationally and mechanically we will have the best campaign since the (1955 AFL-CIO) merger. It's going to be the greatest labor political effort in history on every level."

And then, referring to the morning after the 1948 election Barkan added, "when Harry Truman was told that he had won, first thing he said was 'labor did it.'"

Then he added: "Regardless of the odds and the difficulties today, we can make the difference. We have 15 million members and their families. We expect Humphrey to say, just as Harry Truman and JFK did, 'labor did it.'"

There just is no other man in public and political life who has such support. Vice President Humphrey, who way back in the early '40s began teaching workers education classes, now is collecting his IOU's — these are more than gilt-covered shovels and thousands of honorary labor convention badges.

They'll add up to millions of votes — not enough perhaps — but millions nonetheless.

Red Aims

The "Communist myth," so often brushed aside by "liberals" as imaginary, has all of a sudden become a reality. The argument of the "doves" that the Soviet Union and most of the Communist-bloc states in Eastern Europe constitute no threat to world peace and that they should be given trade benefits and other concessions by the United States has evaporated overnight.

The world is back again to where it was more than a decade ago when Soviet armies crushed an uprising of the people of Hungary. Then, after having connived to weaken the NATO alliance in Europe, the Soviets proceeded to build up North Vietnam and finally to provoke Hanoi's aggression against South Vietnam as a means of diverting American attention from Europe.

IN VIRTUALLY all free nations today a unanimous condemnation is being expressed against the Soviet Union for its invasion of Czechoslovakia and its attempts to suppress the few freedoms that have been allowed the people there.

The hopes of the Czechs for a degree of independence from Soviet domination were abruptly shattered as the Soviet armies, aided by military forces of East Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria and Poland — puppets of Moscow — crossed the Czech border. In the capital at Prague the leaders who had dared to institute reforms in the Communist system have been imprisoned.

President Johnson stated the case clearly when he said that "a defenseless country" has been invaded in order to "stamp out a resurgence of ordinary human freedom." He added:

"The excuses offered by the Soviet Union are patently contrived. The Czechoslovakian government did not request its allies to intervene in its internal affairs. No external aggression threatened Czechoslovakia. The action of the Warsaw Pact allies is in flat violation of the United Nations charter."

There are, of course, in the United States a few politically minded critics who immediately cried out that Russia is merely doing what the United States did in Vietnam.

No parallel, however, exists because the South Vietnamese government formally requested the help of the United States after trying in vain to repel by itself the infiltration by the Communists from North Vietnam.

The Moscow government makes no secret of the fact that within the last three years it has provided billions of dollars worth of munitions and supplies to the North Vietnamese to carry on the aggression against South Vietnam.

The case for American assistance to South Vietnam now will be strengthened before world opinion. It is clear that the Soviet government does not extend military or economic aid and then let go of its control over the smaller countries, but insists instead on dominating their governments and denying them a right to rule themselves.

The United States has explicitly stated that its objective in South Vietnam is to assure the people there the right of self-determination and that, once this is accomplished, our troops will be withdrawn.

Since the Soviet Union has a veto in the security council of the United Nations, this leaves the question to be handled by the General Assembly of the U.N., which can adopt a resolution as it did in 1956 condemning the Soviet Union for 'depriving Hungary of its liberty and independence.' But it is doubtful that such a resolution will make any more impression today in Moscow than it did 12 years ago.

MEANWHILE, the world has been awakened to the somber fact that military power exerted by the Soviets in defiance of the provisions of the United Nations charter can at any moment break the peace on every continent. A stronger alliance of nations than the U.N. will have to be formed in order to be able to mobilize a military force of such strength as to command the respect of would-be aggressors.

The Soviet Union has not only made a big error in Czechoslovakia, but it has assumed that the United States is powerless to draw together the other nations of the world to thwart any further extension of Soviet imperialism.

World opinion, however, can quickly be mobilized. For it now is evident that the policies of the present Moscow regime are no different from those which prevailed under Khrushchev or Stalin. The Communist drive for world domination still threatens the peace of mankind and makes a "detente" with the present leaders in the Kremlin a dangerous policy of acquiescence in Communist imperialism.

Soviet Union Seals Its Doom

The story of blatant aggression unfolding in Czechoslovakia is raising some unanswered questions, but has produced one inescapable conclusion — Russia has sealed its doom and that of old-line communism.

The Czechoslovakian trend toward liberalization and reform came from within the ruling Communist party and had the support of the Czech people.

Encouragement came from Yugoslavia and Romania and from Communist parties in France and Italy.

At the insistence of the Soviet Union, four countries with hard-line Communist leadership joined the effort to purge the liberal regime in Czechoslovakia.

DISREGARDING radio appeals to remain calm and passive, Czech citizens are defying death at the hands of Russian soldiers to voice their objections.

This resistance is symbolic of that existing in every Communist state and it cannot be defeated even by the threat of death.

The desire to be free becomes a part of man when he takes his first breath. He has to be killed to still its persistent voice. And when he dies, there always is another to take his place with redoubled determination.

Sooner or later, the desire for freedom will break forth. Even the nuclear might of the Soviet Union will not thwart it and Russian people will be part of the uprising.

The Russians cannot murder enough intellectuals, writers and artists, or throw enough people in jail, or impose enough restrictions on its own citizens and those in other countries, to stamp out democratization.

The Soviet Union has miscalculated in many ways.

They woefully underestimated young people in the Communist nations. They are the new wave and refuse to be subservient.

They misjudged what has happened in the past 12 years. This is a different world than a decade ago and Czechoslovakia has made more changes than other Communist nations.

By seeking to dominate, the Russians have alienated some of their friends, knocked the underpinnings from those espousing a course of international cooperation and have doubled the determination of their foes.

PUTTING THE Russian boot heel on the Czechs has proved the liberal wing of the Communist party was right and has shown the failure of the hard-liners.

Within the ranks of freedom fighters, a thirst, unquenchable by military might, has been instilled and it must at some time be satisfied with the refreshing water of liberty.

No other course of action by the Soviet Union could have sealed its downfall with more certainty.

No Easy Way

R. L. Cawood, longtime East Liverpool industrial leader who died this week, was more than just a man who achieved notable recognition in a number of fields.

He was a person of special talent, energy and foresight whose ambition and abilities carried him to the pinnacle of success. His was an individualistic observance of older values which many young people of today disdain, but which have been the ingredients of American enterprise since its founding.

He made his mark by choosing his own difficult path, setting his own hard pace, virtues which could be emulated more in an era of the "easy way."

The Pope And His People

Pope Paul VI received a resounding welcome when he arrived in Bogota, Colombia, for the 39th Eucharistic Congress, and, like all other major events today, there is controversy connected with his goodwill visit.

An estimated $100 million has been spent to enable Bogota to put forth a good face while the Pope is its honored guest. In some cases the fronts of buildings and dwellings have been given a fresh coat of paint to hide the stains of poverty. Unexposed sides and backs of the buildings have not been touched.

COLOMBIA is a poor country. Many feel the money could have been put to better use than trying to impress the Pope who is more interested in the spiritual vitality of the nation than its wealth.

Nevertheless, the controversy was shoved into the background when the Pope arrived. The enthusiastic reception for the first pontiff to visit South America in the history of Catholicism left Pope Paul stunned.

Cheering crowds swept aside thoughts of deep divisions within the church and rallied behind their leader.

THEY WERE with the Pope in spirit when he told them he was in Bogota to pray for the world "which has such need of peace" and to plead for "a rational use of so many riches that the Lord has placed in your soil may reach equitably every family and class, in conformity with the principles of justice and Christian charity."

Transparent Nonsense

Talk of a possible United State boycott of the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City is transparent nonsense.

It seems there are elements within the American Olympic community who feel that this is an appropriate way to protest the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

This attitude, if it really exists, is not only ill-conceived but symbolic of a passion for extremes that is running rampant through the world.

A boycott would solve nothing.

Letters To The Editor

The Salineville and Brush Creek Township communities have lost one of their most loyal citizens in the passing of Mrs. Martha Burgett.

She stood ready to promote anything that was for the good of her community. To illustrate the degree of enthusiasm she held for her community, I mention the contributions she made to make a better environment for the youth and adults of the area.

She taught Sunday School 25 years, was secretary for the Brush Creek Grange for 15 years, was a Brush Creek 4-H adviser 15 years, served on the Brush Creek board of elections for many years, visited shut-ins and corresponded with boys in the service, all while she and her husband, Kenneth, operated a dairy farm and raised four sons.

Martha Burgett is no longer with us, but her influence and rich teachings will live on in the hearts and minds of those who knew and loved her.

Our community and the world are better places because of her wonderful life.

On behalf of the boys who represented East Liverpool in the recent Colt "World Series," may I, as their representative, extend their sentiments and thanks to the Tri-State community for the physical, financial and inspirational donations that were given to the Colt All-Star team during the past three weeks of tournament competition.

The telegrams, calls and letters all served to inspire the boys to produce achievements that were above and beyond what some considered their capabilities.

The financial donations given, secured to them, a few pleasantries as a reward for their efforts. For these, and the experiences given and earned, I say for them, "Thank you." It is something that will never be forgotten by any member of the team.

Labor Will Not Forget HHH

CHICAGO: — Most of the smoke-filled hotel rooms in this hyperthyroid city come with wall-to-wall carpeting. Almost everybody is mad at everybody else.

Only where the leaders of the massive unions gather is there unity, fraternity, even if not egalite. There are about 6,000 out-of-town labor leaders of assorted rank here now, and they spend most of their time chanting and cheering for Hubert Humphrey.

They're going to make or break this campaign for the gay and ebullient Vice President. It's all for one, and one for all. And that means Mr. Humphrey has just about the most powerful political machine (with no apologies to Mayor Daley, for he's right in the middle of it) this nation ever has seen.

Nearly all of these labor officials will return to some local union, or joint council, or state office, or international union headquarters, to fight for "HHH."

There's an intellectual conditioned reflex which paints the traditional labor chiefs as high-button-shoes Neanderthals, because so many have had so little formal education. Well, they're mighty bright politicians.

A November wedding is planned.

Dr. Kirk Quits At Columbia U.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Grayson Kirk has retired as president of Columbia University where he was a major target of the student rebellion that rocked the Ivy League campus last spring.

Kirk told the president of the board of trustees in a letter made public Friday that one reason he was stepping down was "to ensure the prospect of more normal university operations during the coming academic year."

As acting president the trustees named Dr. Andrew W. Cordier, dean of the school of international affairs and a former career diplomat. He said he would stress "the human values and participatory possibilities of university life."

The first reaction from student activists, whose main goal has become the restructuring of the university to allow greater student and faculty participation in policy making, was that the change made little difference.

Dakota Girl, Local Man Wed In Church Ceremony

Wedding attire which she designed was worn by Miss Gail Ada Verch when she became the bride of Harry Lee Marshall Aug. 11 at 3 p.m. in the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Iroquois, S. D.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Verch of Iroquois. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Marshall of 1080 Bank St.

The Rev. Richard A. Anderson officiated for the double ceremony before an altar background of palms, ferns and white flowers. Miss Marlys Johansson was organist. The father of the bridegroom was soloist.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father. Her full-length gown of braided brocade satin was fashioned with a round neckline and short sleeves. Her pillbox headpiece held an elbow-length veil adorned with medallions. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds tied with satin streamers. The traditions were observed.

Miss Jean Verch, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a full-length gown of lime green peau de soie made by the bride. Her headpiece was a circlet of white and lime green tinted carnations. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white and green carnations.

Wayne Marshall served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Carl Matter and Darold Verch. Kurt Dickson was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a brown linen dress with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a yellow dress with black patent accessories. Yellow tassel corsages complemented their attire.

A RECEPTION followed in the social rooms under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. John Dickson. Miss Gelaine Geiken presided at the guest register. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Aides were Mrs. Marvin Neidan, Mrs. Edward Poppen, Mrs. Edmond Rusche, Mrs. Paul Verch, Mrs. Jess Pithan, Miss Deanna Puterbaugh, Miss Valerie Cook, Mrs. Perry Puterbaugh, Mrs. Reginald Dirksen, Mrs. Darold Verch, Miss Janet Marshall and Miss Jean Verch.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Niagara Falls and in eastern states. They are residing temporarily with the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, a graduate of Iroquois High School, was graduated in 1967 from Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D. Her husband was graduated in 1962 from East Liverpool High School and served four years in the Air Force. He is attending the Kent State Academic Center.

Wellsville Girl Marries In Missouri Church Rites

Miss Jean Anne Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Welch of Main St., Wellsville, became the bride of Spec. 4 James Robert Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward of Louisiana, Mo., Aug. 10 at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. John Muncy of the First Baptist Church officiated during the 1:30 p.m. double ceremony before an improvised altar of gladioli and candelabra.

Given in marriage by Gerald O'Brien, the bride was attired in a pale pink suit trimmed with white lace and pink scallops. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was attached to a matching or-gandy Dior bow. She carried an arrangement of shaded pink carnations.

Miss Denise Ward was maid of honor and wore a poudre blue sleeveless voile dress with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of shaded blue carnations.

Dennis Salveter of Winfield, Mo., served as best man.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a sleeveless sheath of crepe.

A reception for 25 followed the ceremony. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a soldier and bride figurines.

The newlyweds honeymooned in the eastern states.

The bride was graduated in 1965 from Wellsville High School. Her husband was graduated in 1965 from Louisiana High School and is on leave from Vietnam, where he will return for eight more months.

Four Men Killed, Two Injured In Car-Truck Crash

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Four men were killed early today and two injured when a car and a truck collided about four miles north of here.

The Ohio Highway Patrol listed the dead as Thomas E. Deeter, driver of the car; Charles R. Willis, 26, and Belton R. Duncan, 20, all of Medina and an unidentified man, passengers in the auto.

Injured were Wayne P. Gregg, 25, Blue Island, Ill. and Frank Tillery, 36, Chicago, Ill., who were traveling in the truck.

They were admitted to Medina Community Hospital in satisfactory condition.

The patrol said the truck was backing out of a driveway when it was hit by the car which apparently had no lights on.

Rome's famed Fountain of Trevi was completed in 1762 and is fed by an aqueduct constructed nearly 2,000 years ago.

Happy Birthday Rings Out Again For 99th Year

It's difficult to believe that one time could remain a favorite for almost a century, but it's true, according to Beacher Wilson of 803 Trenton St., Toronto, who will be serenaded with "Happy Birthday" for the 99th year today.

A former resident of New Somerset, Mr. Wilson has resided with a daughter, Mrs. C. R. (Florence) Groves, the last 13 years. His wife, the late Elizabeth Close Wilson, died 11 years ago, just after they had observed their 65th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Wilson was born Aug. 24, 1868, in Jefferson County, a son of the late Henry Wilson and Sarah Wilson. He is a member of the Christian Church of New Somerset, where he served as a deacon for many years. He also has been a member of the Ironside Masonic Lodge for about 62 years. Mr. Wilson was last employed with the highway department.

Though he's in "pretty good health," he is confined to his room, where he welcomes his visitors and watches television. He remains alert and recalls incidents that happened years ago. He has five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. In addition to his daughter with whom he resides, he has another daughter, Mrs. Ethel Sharp of Ironside, and a son, George Wilson of Toronto.

At an informal gathering today, family members and friends alike will join together to sing, "Happy Birthday, Ol' Timer, Happy Birthday to You."

Picnic Will Be Held By Southern Ruritans

The Southern Ruritan Club will hold its annual picnic Monday at 7 p.m. in the lower pavilion of Hammond Park, Wellsville.

Each member is to bring a coverdish and table service. Beverage, rolls and butter will be furnished.

Pete Mase is program chairman. The youth committee — Robert C. Dornick, chairman, Frank Thorne and Walter Boyd — will be in charge of games.

In Final Hours Of Visit

Pope Turns His Attention To Conservative Bishops

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Pope Paul VI turns his attention today in the final hours of his Latin American visit to the hemisphere's 500 predominantly conservative bishops with a message launching their conference on pressing social needs. In his speeches here over the past two days, the pontiff has spoken out on behalf of Latin America's impoverished millions and the need for social reform.

His speeches in addition to de- scribing revolution and violence have urged a social transforma- tion based on carefully built foundations with all levels of so- ciety concurring.

The second Latin American bishops' (CELAM) conference which moves 270 miles north- east of Bogota Monday to the city of Medellin, comes at a time of growing tension over how the church in Latin Amer- ica should handle threatening so- cial and economic upheaval.

Pope Paul came to Bogota three days ago for the dual pur- pose of attending the 39th inter- national Eucharistic Congress and formally opening the CE- LAM conference.

The progressive bishops of Brazil and Chile, who number more than 100, have been waging a struggle against the wish- es of the conservative prelates from the rest of Latin America.

Argentina, with 66 bishops, has been especially vociferous in re- sisting change.

The CELAM conference's basic position paper, drawn up in advance by Brazilians, the bish- ops of Central and South Amer- ica of being removed from their people, of tending to be identi- fied with dictators and reaction- ary elements. The Colombian and Argentine hierarchies pro- tested that language.

The CELAM conference rep- resenting hierarchies of 21 Latin American countries, first met in 1965 in the Argentine city of Mar Del Plata.

For the third day, a four-hour rest was included in the papal schedule to let the pontiff shake off his weariness after each en- counter with crushing crowds. It was his last chance for solid re- laxation before the long flight back across the Atlantic tonight to Rome.

The pope drives this afternoon to CELAM's new headquarters in Bogota to bless the building, then make a final brief appear- ance at the Eucharistic Con- gress grounds on his way to El- dorado airport.

Bogota's almost two-mile-high altitude requires that departing jets carry only partly loaded fuel tanks to allow added lift in the thin air. The Pope's plane must stop in Bermuda to take on more fuel.

'Spiritual Healing Mission' To Be Held Here On Sunday

A "Spiritual Healing Mission" will be held Sunday at the Penn- sylvania Ave. United Methodist Church by a group from the Christ United Presbyterian Church in Canton headed by Dr. Clair B. King.

Dr. King will discuss "The Ministry of Healing" at 10:30 a. m., a spiritual healing work- shop will be conducted at 2 p.m. and a healing service held at 4:15.

Dr. King is a graduate of Grove City College and received his medical degree from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and his mas- ter's degree in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine. He served his internship at Philadelphia and his residency in

The Church And The Human Body

As we read the writings of the Apostle Paul we frequently are reminded of the similarity between the human body and the church. The human body in fact, is used by the Apostle to show some important truths about the church.

Note this statement of Paul in Eph. 1:22, 23. "And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all." In this statement Paul is using the human body to il- lustrate the fact that even as our bodies have just one head, so it is with the church. Christ has been given to be the one and only head of the church. A body with two heads would be a freak. The church that Christ built is not this way. Christ's body, the church has only one head. That head is Jesus Christ. This same fact is made clear in Col. 1:18. "And he is the head of the body, the church; who is the be- ginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the premin- ence." Thus it should be very clear that the church has only one head. Jesus Christ is the only head of the church. Any man or woman who presumes to accept a position that says that they are head of the church, is making a freak out of the church. Jesus Christ is still the only head of his church. He governs the church through His Word, the gospel of Christ. The church today moves only in the direction of Christ through His Word. For any man or group of men today to presume to make laws for the church, they must deny that Paul's comparison of the church to a human body is correct. Yes, the church has only one head. He is Jesus Christ. Again it should be noted that Paul also indicated that the one head over the church is just over one body. What kind of a freak would it be if one head had many bodies? Christ only has one body or one church. Eph. 4:4. "There is one body . . .". Eph. 2:16. "That he might reconcile both unto God in one body . . .". How then is it ex- plained that there are about 300 different religious bodies in the United States. Some in- dicate that all of these bodies belong to Christ. Can you im- agine one head, Jesus Christ, with 300 different bodies. No, Friends, this was never in the plan of God. God does not approve of denominationalism.

Paul's use of the human body to illustrate the church, teaches clearly these two things. There is only one head to the church. He is Christ. The head has only one body or one church.

Are you a member of the church Christ built? You should be. You are invited to attend services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION The Church And The Human Body

As we read the writings of the Apostle Paul we frequently are reminded of the similarity between the human body and the church. The human body in fact, is used by the Apostle to show some important truths about the church.

Note this statement of Paul in Eph. 1:22, 23. "And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all." In this statement Paul is using the human body to illustrate the fact that even as our bodies have just one head, so it is with the church. Christ has been given to be the one and only head of the church. A body with two heads would be a freak. The church that Christ built is not this way. Christ's body, the church has only one head. That head is Jesus Christ. This same fact is made clear in Col. 1:18. "And he is the head of the body, the church; who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence." Thus it should be very clear that the church has only one head, Jesus Christ is the only head of the church. Any man or woman who presumes to accept a position that says that they are head of the church, is making a freak out of the church. Jesus Christ is still the only head of his church. He governs the church through His Word, the gospel of Christ. The church today moves only in the direction of Christ through His Word. For any man or group of men today to presume to make laws for the church, they must deny that Paul's comparison of the church to a human body is correct. Yes, the church has only one head. He is Jesus Christ.

Again it should be noted that Paul also indicated that the one head over the church is just over one body. What kind of a freak would it be if one head had many bodies? Christ only has one body or one church. Eph. 4:4. "There is one body . . .". Eph. 2:16. "That he might reconcile both unto God in one body . . .". How then is it explained that there are about 300 different religious bodies in the United States. Some indicate that all of these bodies belong to Christ. Can you imagine one head, Jesus Christ, with 300 different bodies. No, Friends, this was never in the plan of God. God does not approve of demoninationism.

Paul's use of the human body to illustrate the church, teaches clearly these two things. There is only one head to the church. He is Christ. The head has only one body or one church.

Are you a member of the church Christ built? You should be. You are invited to attend services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

town and Fairview fairs in Beaver County have been important to farm and home on both sides of the Ohio River in western Beaver County and Hancock County, W. Va., for some time.

The excitement of livestock, vegetable, fruit and handicraft competition for the farmers is matched in the appeal of sights, sounds and smells for the general public.

A tremendous amount of preparation is required for the yearly event, not just in the raising of animals or field products and readying them for show, but in the labor of maintaining and improving the fair grounds and buildings, arranging the hundreds of details, handling the cars and crowds, operating the concessions, judging the events and making everything work.

Despite rockets to the moon, the complexities of a computer age and the sophistication of modern entertainment, the fair will no doubt continue to be a vital part of Americana for decades to come.

Outdoor Notes

By HARRY STEWART
Review Staff Member

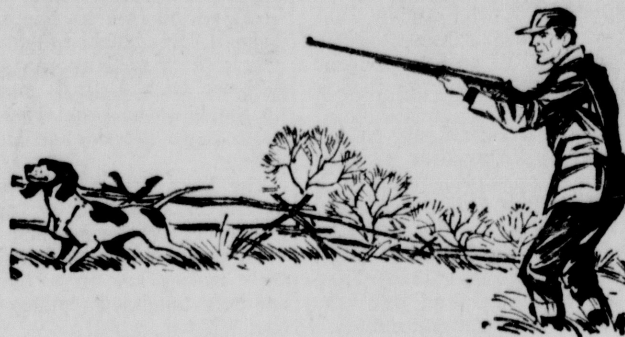

THE MORNING DOVES SOON WILL begin migrating south where they will live through the winter. Although these birds are protected in Ohio as a song bird, they are considered game birds elsewhere.

I have observed several mourning doves in Columbiana County this year. However, the southeastern section of the state is only a secondary range for these birds. The primary range is in the western and northern parts of Ohio.

There have been efforts in the past to have them removed from the song bird list and placed on the list of legal game, but bird lovers have fought this very strongly.

In the South, the mourning dove is considered a very worthy game bird and attracts hundreds of hunters.

While many are against shooting them, they are not exactly an easy target to hit. Once they get up a full head of steam, it takes a sharp eye to down a passing dove.

Many sportsmen feel they should be hunted in Ohio, complaining "We raise them and down South they shoot them."

A GOOD ARGUMENT in favor of sportsmen is the fact that natural mortality of the mourning dove causes an annual population turnover of approximately 80 per cent. That is, 80 per cent of the mourning doves alive prior to their migration south in early fall will have died by the next fall migration from natural causes.

As a migratory bird, the mourning dove is subject to federal protection under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and under international conventions with Canada and Mexico. All states must establish their dove regulations within the federal regulatory framework.

The doves, sometimes called "turtle dove" or "rain crow," nest in trees, and bushes, but rarely on the ground. The nest is loosely constructed of twigs and bark. Most are found 10 to 20 feet above the ground. They nest during April and May. The hens usually lay two eggs and these hatch in about 15 days. They commonly have two or three broods a year. The young leave the nest in about two weeks.

Both of the adults incubate the eggs. The male usually sets during the day and the female at night. During the rearing period, both adults feed their young "crop milk," a fatty substance produced in the crop. The diet is gradually replaced with seeds.

Mourning doves feed in the morning and evening, primarily on seeds of corn, wheat, bristlegass, buckwheat, ragweed, pokeweed, timothy and so forth. Occasionally they will eat insects, but approximately 98 per cent of the diet consists of seeds.

The dove is native to the United States. The number in Ohio is estimated in the hundreds of thousands.

Because they are grain feeders, they are usually found in fields, patches and orchards. They also can be seen along highways, scratching for grit.

A TIME TO GO LIGHT. Two-pound test line doesn't look like much — to either man or fish. Maybe that is why it's so effective.

When temperatures soar and game fish in your favorite water hole ignore the best you have to offer, a switch to featherweight equipment may improve the situation.

Ultralight tackle can be the answer when waters are lepid, low and extremely clear . . . and when the fish are nuzzling only the most delicate morsels on the menu.

Though a perfectly balanced rig is desirable, anyone possessing a medium-weight spinning rod can load and spool with two-or-four-pound monofilament and achieve satisfactory results. Lighter lines are available but work best on rods designed to handle them.

Gossamer lines offer two distinct advantages: (1) they are less visible to wary fish, and (2) they permit easy casting of tidbit-sized lures. Such factors can make quite a difference to lackadaisical lunkers.

To overcome the disadvantages of frail lines, check rod and reel for rough edges that will cut the mono, and inspect frequently for knots; stay out in open water; don't try to "horse" 'em in, and be exceedingly careful when boating a fish.

Ultralight lines might even make you a better fisherman. Certainly it doesn't take long to discover you can't yank up snagged water lilies or haul down tree branches by brute force.

You learn to work over, around and under trouble spots, and spend more time fishing than fooling.

ONE WIT claims that an angler's stature in the fishing world is measured by his mouth as well as his ability to fish. In other words, if you're going to tell fish stories, you'd better talk like a fisherman.

To foster improved relations between novices and old hands, the experts have come up with a few suggestions that will get any beginner off to a good start.

Certain words always ruffle the feathers of the pro. Pole heads the top of the list. Poles are something you would fly flags from or push a boat with. Except for the cane variety, which is an unmentionable in some quarters, poles have nothing to do with fishing. Substitute rod and you're safe.

Fish smash, strike, bust or hit a plug, but never bite it.

Bites and nibbles immediately reflect the use of bait—never recommended when spinning a yarn.

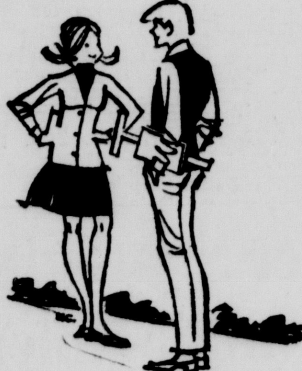

Call your outboard rig her. It's the only other gal in the lives of men to which wives seldom object.

Use local fish names only. A speckled trout in Florida is considerably different than a spec in Ontario. A lake trout becomes a mackinaw in the west, and a togue in the northeast. And you'd better call bream "brim" or be denounced as a carpebagger.

So choose your words with care. You may not be able to make other fishermen believe you, but at least you can hold their attention.

FUNDS AVAILABLE for damage caused by bears in Pennsylvania will be increased from $5,000 to $7,500 per year beginning Sept. 1, according to the Game Commission. During the 1966-67 fiscal year, claims totaled approximately $1,000 more than was allocated for this expenditure. Value of property damaged has increased in recent years so it was necessary to seek legislative action to increase the annual allocation.

The Game Commission may pay for damage done to livestock or poultry or for protection to or damage done to bees or bee keeping equipment by bears upon lands open to public hunting after a thorough investigation reveals the damage was actually caused by bears.

You were right if you insisted it was safe and sane. Latest stats show that the Volks had a lower rate of accidents per thousand than most American-made "biggies."

MEDICARE FOR TEENS: A medicare program for teen-agers and co-op nursery schools for unwed mothers were among the recommendations made to a Governor's (California) Advisory Committee on children and youth. "A doctor can't touch a kid without parents' consent. Many teens are afraid to tell their parents their problem. Medical help for teens should be available on a free basis." So goes the teen answer to medicare! One group is "too young" to be sick—the other "too old" to pay for their infirmities! The "nursery" co-ops proposed are to be staffed by girls awaiting their own out-of-wedlock children. Located near high schools where vocational training will be encouraged during pregnancies. Teens are muttering that welfare shouldn't be a privilege of the aged!

CYCLE HELMETS: Because it's unconstitutional to require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets, Michigan has come up with a way to force helmets on them. The state legislature just passed a law requiring a helmet to be sold with each motorcycle. Theoretically, the buyers will decide to wear it as long as they bought it. Many hope it will work to save lives of teen cycle nuts.

General Motors has developed a theft alarm that's sure to scare off the most determined joyrider. We aren't telling what it is, but take our advice and don't find out the hard way!

BUYING CARS: People in the know advise teen boys who are in the market for their cars to listen to word-of-mouth recommendations for a good car dealer.

WHEN? The worst time to buy a car is just when you want it most—that is, during the spring and summer when demand is highest. Best time is autumn, right after new models come out. Also winter, when car business is slow. Perfect back-to-school investment or Christmas gift.

YOUR EARS CAN FOOL YOU: So you think you can tell a good used car by the purr of its engine? Forget it! Heavy oil in the crankcase may have been put there to quiet a noisy engine. So check the dip stick.

TWO WHEELS ARE BETTER THAN NONE: Some teens scorn any transportation but their very own car. In light of car prices and teen allowances, there will always be many without their own cars. YAP GAP NARROWS: Some newspapers are doing something about the "young market." Milwaukee Sentinel has been banging away on a "Young America" promotion for past three years. Leading retailers band together and stage a two-month long festival aimed at the delight of being under 25 years old. Fast-moving day-by-day "curriculum" ranges from rock 'n' roll to opera, to auto racing to auto shows. The town jumps for almost 60 days. So do retail sales.

ALTON C. SHORTSHEET settled back in an easy chair in his home on St. Clair Ave., sated with a Sunday dinner of roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy and green peas and topped off with a huge hunk of chocolate cake.

A moment later, victim of an unscheduled coronary thrombosis, he found himself standing before two broad gates that reached upward until they disappeared in a bright, shining mist.

"Alton Shortsheet, take three paces forward," a voice thundered from the sky. "Stand at attention while we review your record!" Shortsheet, confused by the sudden transformation but determined not to get off on the wrong foot—even in a dream—stepped forward three jerky paces. Then, turning his head about rapidly in a vain quest for the source of the thunderous voice, asked: "Where am I? Who are you?"

"You're standing at the threshold of the Pearly Gates," the awesome voice thundered again. I am Angelo, your own private recording angel. We must review your earthly record to determine if the portals will swing open for you or if you will be dispatched to the Other Place. Quiet, while I read off the record!"

Shortsheet could hear the distant sound of pages being turned. And then the voice boomed out again. "At the age of 7, in the year called 1899, you placed a token from a bankrupt streetcar company in the Sunday School collection at your church," the angel Angelo's voice boomed. Shortsheet made no denial, although he could not remember the incident so long ago. "For that, 30 days in the Other Place," the angel decreed.

SHORTSHEET SHUDDERED, for he knew the record would become worse as the later years were reviewed. "At the age of 9, in the year called 1901, you forged a note to your teacher and spent the afternoon at the circus," the overwhelming voice boomed.

Shortsheet began to smile at the recollection of the treasured experience, but the voice boomed: "For that, another 30 days in the Other Place!"

"And at the age of 16, in the year called 1908, you stole two watermelons from a farmer's patch," the thunderous voice continued. Shortsheet licked his lips, hoping that at least a few of his youthful escapades had been overlooked or written off as pranks. But his hopes were shattered again. "For that, 60 days in the Other Place," the angel Angelo boomed.

Shortsheet heard the huge pages rustle again, stirring a breeze that ruffled his hair. "And in 1918, at the age of 26, you set fire to your first sergeant's bunk, stole a doughnut from the Red Cross Canteen and returned three days late from a furlough."

Shortsheet began to interject that the Army had punished him for the ancient offenses, and adequately, many years ago, but the unrelenting voice continued. "For that, another 60 days in the Other Place." Shortsheet began to tremble as his mind roved through some of the other offenses that he knew must be entered on his record.

"IN THE YEAR called 1923, at the age of 31, you took a two-cent stamp from a colleague's desk and did not reimburse him," the voice rumbled from afar.

"You helped yourself to your employer's stationery; you made long-distance telephone calls at his expense and on four occasions when you were over-paid you kept silent and failed to offer restitution. Furthermore, at the office picnic, you administered a hotfoot to your elderly employer and then let a callow stockboy take the blame. For these offenses, 60 days in the Other Place."

"In that same year," the thundering voice continued, "you kicked a neighbor's dog; turpented his cat; insulted his wife; trampled his tulips and sprayed herbicide on his prize muskmelon crop. For those offenses, 65 days in the Other Place."

Shortsheet stood with downcast eyes, giving up all hope of being permitted to enter the Pearly Gates. Then his countenance brightened as he remembered a scene he had witnessed in criminal court years before. "Please, sir, begging your pardon, but may I be allowed to enter a plea in mitigation?" he asked.

"You may, but make it brief," the booming voice replied. "There are many more cases than yours awaiting judgment. Just give us the facts as briefly as possible — and no whining!"

"WELL, SIR, I was always known as a good neighbor and a civic-minded fellow in my days on earth," Shortsheet said plaintively. "I fed stray dogs and provided homes for abandoned mother cats and their kittens."

"I gave unselfishly to every fund drive that came along and I even helped in some of the door-to-door campaigns. I was always kind to my mother, my wife and my children. I never denied a request for help from the unfortunate."

Shortsheet paused for a moment, but hearing no reply, plunged on with his recital. "I'm the kind of fellow who picked up hitch-hikers in the rain, helped old ladies across the street, watched my neighbor's home movies without protest and always had a nice treat for the youngsters on Halloween."

"Hold up a minute," the booming voice commanded. "We cannot remit one day of your time in the Other Place on such commonplace actions. Have you anything else at all to offer before you are banished into the nether regions?"

"I just wanted to say that I served three terms on the East Liverpool Board of Education," Shortsheet whimpered, and then lapsed into silence.

"The East Liverpool Board of Education!" the angel Angelo interjected. With two mighty sweeps of his arm he scratched out the black marks on Shortsheet's record. A blare of trumpets sounded and the mammoth gates swung wide.

"Advance, Alton O. Shortsheet," the angel's voice boomed from on high. "You've done your time in the Other Place!"

THE MORNING DOVES SOON WILL begin migrating south where they will live through the winter. Although these birds are protected in Ohio as a song bird, they are considered game birds elsewhere.

I have observed several mourning doves in Columbiana County this year. However, the southeastern section of the state is only a secondary range for these birds. The primary range is in the western and northern parts of Ohio.

There have been efforts in the past to have them removed from the song bird list and placed on the list of legal game, but bird lovers have fought this very strongly.

In the South, the mourning dove is considered a very worthy game bird and attracts hundreds of hunters.

While many are against shooting them, they are not exactly an easy target to hit. Once they get up a full head lepid, low and extremely clear . . . and when the fish are nuzzling only the most delicate morsels on the menu.

Though a perfectly balanced rig is desirable, anyone possessing a medium-weight spinning rod can load and spool with two-or-four-pound monofilament and achieve satisfactory results. Lighter lines are available but work best on rods designed to handle them.

Gossamer lines offer two distinct advantages: (1) they are less visible to wary fish, and (2) they permit easy casting of tidbit-sized lures. Such factors can make quite a difference to lackadaisical lunkers.

To overcome the disadvantages of frail lines, check rod and reel for rough edges that will cut the mono, and inspect frequently for knots; stay out in open water; don't try to "horse" 'em in, and be exceedingly careful when boating a fish.

Ultralight lines might even make you a better fisherman. Certainly it doesn't take long to discover you can't yank up snagged water lilies or haul down tree branches by brute force.

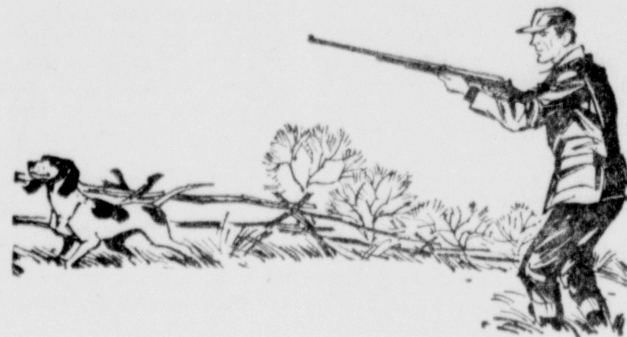

You learn to work over, around and under trouble spots, and spend more time fishing than fooling.

ONE WIT claims that an angler's stature in the fishing world is measured by his mouth as well as his ability to fish. In other words, if you're going to tell fish stories, you'd better talk like a fisherman.

of steam, it takes a sharp eye to down a passing dove. Many sportsmen feel they should be hunted in Ohio, complaining "We raise them and down South they shoot them."

A GOOD ARGUMENT in favor of sportsmen is the fact that natural mortality of the mourning dove causes an annual population turnover of approximately 80 per cent. That is, 80 per cent of the mourning doves alive prior to their migration south in early fall will have died by the next fall migration from natural causes.

As a migratory bird, the mourning dove is subject to federal protection under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and under international conventions with Canada and Mexico. All states must establish their dove regulations within the federal regulatory framework.

The doves, sometimes called "turtle dove" or "rain crow," nest in trees, and bushes, but rarely on the ground. The nest is loosely constructed of twigs and bark. Most are found 10 to 20 feet above the ground. They nest during April and May. The hens usually lay two eggs and these hatch in about 15 days. They commonly have two or three broods a year. The young leave the nest in about two weeks.

Both of the adults incubate the eggs. The male usually sets during the day and the female at night. During the rearing period, both adults feed their young "crop milk," a fatty substance produced in the crop. The diet is gradually replaced with seeds.

Mourning doves feed in the morning and evening, primarily on seeds of corn, wheat, bristlegass, buckwheat, ragweed, pokeweed, timothy and so forth. Occasionally they will eat insects, but approximately 98 per cent of the diet consists of seeds.

The dove is native to the United States. The number in Ohio is estimated in the hundreds of thousands.

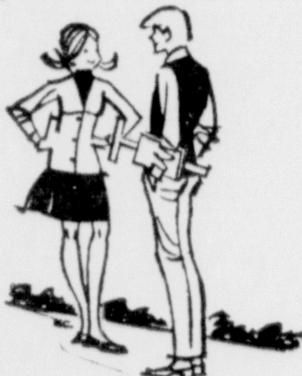

Because they are grain feeders, they are usually found in fields, patches and orchards. They also can be seen along highways, scratching for grit.

A TIME TO GO LIGHT. Two-pound test line doesn't look like much — to either man or fish. Maybe that is why it's so effective.

When temperatures soar and game fish in your favorite water hole ignore the best you have to offer, a switch to featherweight equipment may improve the situation.

Yankees Win Then Play Tigers To 3-3 Tie In Marathon

Baltimore Remains 7½ Games Back

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you don't think this is the year of the pitcher you can't expect any help on your side of the argument from Detroit Tiger or New York Yankee hitters. Far from it.

They flubbed a chance—10 of them in fact—to disprove the statement in a dandy five-hour example of futility Friday night before a 1 a.m. curfew forced an end of activities in a 19-inning, 3-3 tie.

That marathon struggle—longest in the American League this year—came after the Yankees used Tom Tresh's two-run homer for a 2-1 victory in the opener of a doubleheader.

All told, the twin bill consumed a little more than eight hours and 28 innings—equivalent to a tripleheader plus an inning. And the second match was all for naught. It will be replayed in its entirety as part of a doubleheader Sunday.

The loss and standoff, however, didn't do a thing to the Tigers' seven-game lead in the American League since runner-up Baltimore was a 4-3 victim of Boston.

In other AL games, Oakland routed California 9-4, Chicago slipped past Minnesota 4-2 and Cleveland whipped Washington 6-2.

Roy White's eighth-inning homer, his 12th of the year, tied the nightcap for New York and set the stage for a brilliant spell of relief pitching.

Lindy McDaniel, who took over for the Yankees in the 19th, hurled seven perfect innings before he was lifted for a pinch hitter. Dooley Womack checked the Tigers the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, Detroit's John Hiller, who came in after White's homer, yielded only four hits before he was replaced by Don McMahon in the 17th.

Tresh's 11th homer of the year in the opener came after Joe Pepitone singled off loser Earl Wilson, 10-11, in the second inning.

Wilson, who hit a fifth-inning homer—the 30th of his career—was forced to leave the game in the sixth when he was struck on the right shoulder by Pepitone's liner.

Sian Bahnsen, 12-9, scattered six hits in picking up the victory.

A line drive off pitcher Dave Leonard's glove proved to be Baltimore's undoing. Jose Tartabull's smash enabled Joe Foy to score from third in the fifth inning and winner Juan Pizarro, 6-4, made it stand up.

Boston took an early 2-0 lead, but Baltimore tied it in the third on Frank Robinson's homer. Boog Powell's single and a three-base error by Floyd Robinson.

Dalton Jones homered for Boston in the next inning, but Paul Blair tied it back up again with a solo blast in the bottom of the fourth.

Rookies Joe Keough and Sal Bando had two-run triples to power Oakland past California. Keough's hit sparked a three-run uprising in the first inning, then Bando's three-bagger in the seventh clinched the triumph after the Angels had pulled to within 5-4.

Sandy Alomar's base running and a sacrifice fly by Duane Josephson in the eighth enabled Chicago to stop the Twins. Alomar singled, stole second, took third on Dean Chance's wild pitch and then scored on Josephson's sacrifice. Tommy Davis singled in Pete Ward, who had doubled, for an insurance run.

The Twins had tied it in the sixth on Tony Oliva's two-run homer.

Cleveland rookie Mike Paul had to rely on some strong relief pitching by Eddie Fisher for his first major league victory, after losing his first six.

Fisher came on in the seventh and tamed the Senators except for Frank Howard's 36th homer of the year in the ninth.

Bengals Slice Five Linemen

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown trimmed his Cincinnati Bengals to 54 players Thursday, making five cuts.

Released were ends Elmo Maples and Roger Reynolds, tackles Jim Boudreaux and Claude Lee and guard Ed Mitchell.

Dewey Warren got the nod for the starting quarterback spot when the Bengals face the Pittsburgh Steelers at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday in an exhibition game.

Brown also said veteran quarterback John Stofa, who injured a knee against Denver two weeks ago, will see limited action.

Stanton Counting On Youngsters After Losing 12 Letter Winners

Stanton lost 12 lettermen, including all - state fullback Elmer Tice, from its 6-3 1967 football team, and coach Ken Woods is depending on young linemen to produce if the Red Raiders are to match last year's mark.

There are eight lettermen back, but only two regular linemen, guards Doug Koehnlein, a 200-pound sophomore, and Greg Zamborski, a 160-pound junior. Other guards are sophomores Dale McMasters, 140, and Frank Martin, 150, and freshman Lynn Board, 135. Letterman Howard Severs, a 190-pound junior, is fighting Mike Abdalla, another 190-pound junior, for the center slot. There is size at tackle in 6-2, 240-pound senior Rich Henderson and 220-pound freshman Craig Beadnell, but no experience. Jim McCourt, a 160-pound junior letterman, may play tackle, though he is also being tried at fullback. Ends are senior Rich Bell, 150, junior Mike Patterson, 150 and sophomore Frank Board, 141.

Aside from Tice the entire backfield returns. Dave Olesky, a 150-pound senior, will be the quarterback, with sophomore Mark Hoobler and freshman Ken Myers in reserve. John Minor, a 150-pound junior, will try to fill Tice's shoes at fullback. Lettermen sophomores

Bob Holland and Keith Reese, both 140, will be at halfbacks, with junior Dave Bell backing up.

Woods will be assisted by Gary Oblak and Harry Diehl. The Red Raiders expect to use a straight T offense and a 5-3 defense. Woods tabs Hopedale, Mt. Pleasant and Jefferson Union as the tougher teams on the schedule.

The schedule: Sept. 6—at Hopedale; Sept. 13—at Mt. Pleasant; Sept. 20—at Southern Local; Sept. 27—at Springfield; Oct. 4—Adena; Oct. 18—at Dillonvale; Oct. 26—at Brilliant, 2 p. m.; Nov. 1—Jefferson Union; Nov. 8—Smithfield.

Swimmers start five days of racing at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium while the track and field hopefuls, expected to comprise the best U.S. squad ever, battle for positions Saturday and Sunday at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut.

Only a few of the 1964 women's swim team which dominated the competitions at Tokyo still remain active competitors but a bunch of teen-agers could surpass the triumphant performances of four years ago.

Pokey Watson, the baby of the 1964 team, is now the outstanding prospect in the meter backstroke and the Santa Clara, Calif., lass is still but 18.

In the freestyle events the favorites are Debbie Meyer, 15, Jane Barkman, 16, Sue Pedersen, 14 and Eadie Wetzel, 15. Miss Pedersen also is a strong threat in the 200 and 400-meter individual medley races. Claudia Kolb, who won a silver medal at Tokyo in the 200 breaststroke, holds the world record in the 200 medley, and tries for the team again this year.

Catie Ball, 16, holds world records at both 100 and 200 breaststroke distances while Elie Daniel, a coed at Penn State and Toni Hewitt, a 16-year-old high school star, are top candidates in the butterfly.

The top three finishers in each of the events win spots on the Olympic team.

Five final events are scheduled each day in the track and field competition. Saturday, the competition is in the 800 meter run, 80 meter hurdles, 200 meter dash, shot put and long jump.

On Sunday they'll decide the members of the team in the discus, 400 meter run, 100 meter dash high jump and javelin throw.

Results of the recent national Amateur Athletic Union championships indicated the strength of the Olympic team.

Margaret Bailes, a Eugene, Ore., high school junior, won the 100 and equalled the world record of 11.1 seconds in both the semifinals and finals.

Miss Bailes beat 1964 Olympic gold medal winner Wyomia Tyus of Tennessee State in the 100 but Miss Tyus captured the 200 in 23.5 seconds compared to 23.7 for Miss Bailes. Veteran Barbara Ferrell of Los Angeles poses a threat to both, particularly in the 200.

Willie White of Chicago bids to compete in her third Olympics. The long jumper won the AAU with a leap of 20-11, one of her career best.

Olga Connolly, who won the discus event for her native Czechoslovakia in 1956 and met her future husband Hal Connolly, rates as the favorite in her event this time.

With Connolly one of the top hammer throwers again, they could make it a husband-wife trip.

Mrs. Connolly won the AAU title with a throw of 170 feet 10 inches.

Barbara Friedrich of Newark, N. J., won the AAU javelin at 178-10 and Jarvis Scott of Los Angeles ran the fastest 400 for an American this year at 52.9.

Performances such as these provide the optimism in the U.S. camp.

Four million foreign tourists visit Rome each year.

Under a League ruling that calls games after 4½ innings if a team is 12 runs ahead, the Friday night game ended 26-3.

Houston, Tex., eliminated Maui, Hawaii 5-4 in the first game of Friday's doubleheader. Houston meets Covina tonight and Venezuela battles Greensboro, N.C., in a game of the undefeateds.

Namath Returns To Lead New York Over Atlanta

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

You've got to hand it to Joe Namath the way he performed with his right arm while testing his gimpy left knee for the first time this season. Gino Cappelletti didn't do badly with his toe, either.

Namath, the New York Jets' passing wizard, and Cappelletti, the Boston Patriots' field goal specialist, were among those who starred on Friday night's five-game pro football exhibition program.

Namath passed for two touchdowns in completing 12 of 20 passes for 140 yards as the American Football League's Jets downed Atlanta of the National League 27-12.

Cappelletti contributed field goals of 49 and 48 yards in leading the Patriots to a 19-17 victory over the Miami Dolphins in a game matching AFL teams. In another AFL tilt, the Houston Oilers crushed the Buffalo Bills 37-7 while in the NFL the Detroit Lions downed the Baltimore Colts 14-7.

In another inter-league game, the NFL San Francisco 49ers defeated the AFL Denver Broncos 22-6.

Namath, who complained of pain in his left knee and sat out his team's first two exhibition games, played almost three quarters against the Falcons at Birmingham, Ala. In addition to his TD aerials, the former Alabama star fired a 15-yard pass to George Sauer to set up another touchdown.

The Patriots, who had scored only one touchdown in losing two previous games, parlayed Cappelletti's golden toe and alert fumble coverage to down the Dolphins.

Boston found an easy route to a pair of scores after its strong defense recovered bobbles by Miami's Bob Griese and rookie Kim Hammond. The latter lost the ball at the Miami 35 late in the second quarter and fullback Jim Nance scored the first touchdown of the game on a 28-yard run with eight seconds left in the half.

Reserve quarterback Bob Davis led undefeated Houston to its fourth consecutive victory. He worked the entire second half and completed three touchdowns passes, one a 60-yard bomb to Ode Burrell. It was Buffalo's first loss in four exhibition starts.

Detroit's defense throttled Baltimore scoring opportunities five times in the first half and turned a blocked field goal attempt into a 66-yard touchdown.

The pivotal score came in the first period when linebacker Mike Lucci blocked Lou Michaels' field goal attempt. Cornerback Dick LeBeau scooped up the loose ball and raced 66 yards down the sideline for the TD.

The 49ers struck for 16 points in the second quarter against Denver in registering their first victory of the season. John Brodie's passes set up a pair of one-yard touchdown plunges by Ken Willard.

Hank Aaron, the Atlanta rough-hitter, speaks nervously and swings a big bat.

Aaron was honored before the Braves-Philadelphia game at Atlanta Friday night and he was so nervous he couldn't finish his remarks.

He felt right at home with a bat in his hands, however, as he drove in four runs, three with a homer, in leading the Braves to a 6-0 victory.

St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 3-2 in 11 innings. Cincinnati topped the New York Mets 4-2. Houston edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 8-3 in other National League games.

After receiving a car, a truckload of gasoline, a truckload of soft drinks and many other gifts, Aaron thanked God for giving him the ability to play baseball and thanked those who had anything to do with or turned out for his night.

"I had a lot of other things I wanted to say, but I couldn't get them out," Aaron said after the game. "I was really nervous. I had to take a pill this afternoon to relax."

Once the game started, Aaron proceeded to make the Phillies nervous. He drove in the only run Pat Jarvis needed with a grounder in the third inning and clinched it with a three-run homer in the fifth. It was his 23rd of the season and 504th of the career.

Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer in the sixth tied Pittsburgh for St. Louis and the league-leading Cardinals won it when Mike Shannon was hit by a pitch and Phil Gagliano tripled.

Alex Johnson's RBI single, his third hit of the game, drove in what proved to be the winning run for Cincinnati against the Mets. Mack Jones singled in the first two runs for the Reds and relief pitcher Clay Carroll singled home the final one.

A two-out single by Norm Miller with the bases loaded climaxed a three-run ninth inning and carried Houston to its fifth straight victory. The loss snapped Chicago's winning streak at four games.

Rusty Staub's single off reliever Phil Regan drove in the first Houston run and Doug Rader's double brought in the tying run. Ron Santo clouted a solo homer for the Cubs.

Los Angeles jumped on starter Bob Bolin for three runs in the first inning but Mike McCormick came on to allow just two hits in the final 8-1-3 as San Francisco sent the Dodgers to their seventh straight loss.

Willie McCovey and Ty Cline drove in two runs apiece for San Francisco. McCovey climaxed a three-run rally in the fifth inning by singling home the tie-breaking run.

Palmer Says No Comment Over Dispute With PGA

The revolt of the touring pros from the Professional Golfers' Association could reach another crucial stage at the Thunderbird Classic next week—with uncommitted Arnold Palmer the focal point.

Palmer, perhaps the greatest name in golf, declined to commit himself Friday after day-long talks with PGA president Max Elbin of Washington, D.C.

"I just don't think I'm in a position to comment at this stage," Palmer said after the meeting at his home in Latrobe, Pa.

The meeting appeared to be a move on the part of the PGA to keep Palmer loyal to the 52-year-old organization instead of the newly formed organization of the touring pros.

"We just had a long talk to explore the whole realm of this new situation," Palmer said.

The new situation was created this week when the touring pros broke with the established PGA and incorporated as the American Professional Golfers.

They agreed to honor all contracts for this year and two already signed for 1969 but then want to go it on their own, bucking the PGA for sponsors and television.

Palmer's name significantly has been missing from the leaders of the new group, who include Gardner Dickinson, Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper, Doug Ford, Dan Sikes and Frank Beard.

Columbiana Speedy, But Lacks Veterans

Columbiana posted a fine 8-2 mark last season, but the Clippers will be hard pressed to match that mark this time around.

Only four lettermen return from last year, and one of them, halfback John Lower, is out indefinitely with a knee injury.

New coach George Morris does have quarterback Gary Gregg returning, and he expects to throw more this season. Another letterman is halfback Gary Schmidt, one of the fastest runners in the county. The lone other veteran is guard-linebacker Dave Weikert.

Junior John Savage is expected to be at fullback and junior Dale Reash will back Gregg at quarterback. The Clippers also have a good place-kicker in senior Bob Hum.

The center spot is between senior Fred Steeb, 6-1, 175 and junior Bob Hum (no relation to the kicker), 5-11, 185. Guards will be Weikert and Craig Dean, a 6-0, 170 senior. Tackles are Chris Lamomcha, a 6-0, 205 senior, Walter Savage, a 5-10, 200 senior and Trevor Rummel, a 6-3, 235 junior. Ends are juniors Jeff Stephens, 5-8, 150, Mark Young, 6-2, 175 and Ed Cyrus, 6-2, 180.

Morris will be assisted by Dave Ramsey for the line, Bob Hutton for the backs, Bob Gessler for the freshmen and Dale Wademan as a freshman assistant.

To take advantage of the team's speed, the Clippers will use a spread offense. The defense will be 5-2.

Morris sees the Tri - County League race as wide open, with Leetonia having a slight edge.

The schedule: Sept. 6—Beaver Local; Sept. 13—at Carrollton; Sept. 20—Poland; Sept. 27—Minerva; Oct. 11—Leetonia; Oct. 18—at Sebring; Oct. 25—United; Nov. 1—at Lisbon; Nov. 8—E. Palestine

Yankees Win Then Play Tigers To 3-3 Tie In Marathon

Baltimore Remains 7½ Games Back

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you don't think this is the year of the pitcher you can't expect any help on your side of the argument from Detroit Tiger or New York Yankee hitters. Far from it.

They flubbed a chance—10 of them in fact—to disprove the statement in a dandy five-hour example of futility Friday night before a 1 a.m. curfew forced an end of activities in a 19-inning, 3-3 tie.

That marathon struggle—longest in the American League this year—came after the Yankees used Tom Tresh's two-run homer for a 2-1 victory in the opener of a doubleheader.

All told, the twin bill consumed a little more than eight hours and 28 innings—equivalent to a tripeheader plus an inning. And the second match was all for naught. It will be replayed in its entirety as part of a doubleheader Sunday.

The loss and standoff, however, didn't do a thing to the Tigers' seven-game lead in the American League since runner-up Baltimore was a 4-3 victim of Boston.

In other AL games, Oakland routed California 9-4, Chicago slipped past Minnesota 4-2 and Cleveland whipped Washington 6-2.

Roy White's eighth-inning homer, his 12th of the year, tied the nightcap for New York and set the stage for a brilliant spell of relief pitching.

Lindy McDaniel, who took over for the Yankees in the 19th, hurled seven perfect innings before he was lifted for a pinch hitter, Dooley Womack checked the Tigers the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, Detroit's John Hiller, who came in after White's homer, yielded only four hits before he was replaced by Don McMahon in the 17th.

Tresh's 11th homer of the year in the opener came after Joe Pepitone singled off loser Earl Wilson, 10-11, in the second inning.

Wilson, who hit a fifth-inning homer—the 30th of his career—was forced to leave the game in the sixth when he was struck on the right shoulder by Pepitone's liner.

Stan Bahnsen, 12-9, scattered six hits in picking up the victory.

A line drive off pitcher Dave Leonhard's glove proved to be Baltimore's undoing. Jose Tartabull's smash enabled Joe Foy to score from third in the fifth inning and winner Juan Pizarro, 6-4, made it stand up.

Boston took an early 2-0 lead, but Baltimore tied it in the third on Frank Robinson's homer, Boog Powell's single and a three-base error by Floyd Robinson.

Dalton Jones homered for Boston in the next inning, but Paul Blair tied it back up again with a solo blast in the bottom of the fourth.

Rookies Joe Keough and Sal Bando had two-run triples to power Oakland past California. Keough's hit sparked a three-run uprising in the first inning, then Bando's three-bagger in the seventh clinched the triumph after the Angels had pulled to within 5-4.

Sandy Alomar's base running and a sacrifice fly by Duane Josephson in the eighth enabled Chicago to stop the Twins. Alomar singled, stole second, took third on Dean Chance's wild pitch and then scored on Josephson's sacrifice. Tommy Davis singled in Pete Ward, who had doubled, for an insurance run.

The Twins had tied it in the sixth on Tony Oliva's two-run homer.

Cleveland rookie Mike Paul had to rely on some strong relief pitching by Eddie Fisher for his first major league victory, after losing his first six.

Fisher came on in the seventh and tamed the Senators except for Frank Howard's 36th homer of the year in the ninth.

Bengals Slice Five Linemen

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown trimmed his Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League to 54 players Thursday, making five cuts.

Released were ends Elmo Maples and Roger Reynolds, tackles Jim Boudreaux and Claude Lee and guard Ed Mitchell.

Dewey Warren got the nod for the starting quarterback spot when the Bengals face the Pittsburgh Steelers at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday in an exhibition game.

Brown also said veteran quarterback John Stofa, who injured a knee against Denver two weeks ago, will see limited action.

Gals Take Over Spotlight Vying For Olympic Roles

By The Associated Press
By land and water, United States girls open competition today for teams traveling to Mexico City and the 1968 Olympic Games in October.

Swimmers start five days of racing at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium while the track and field hopefuls, expected to comprise the best U.S. squad ever, battle for positions Saturday and Sunday at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut.

Only a few of the 1964 women's swim team which dominated the competitions at Tokyo still remain active competitors but a bunch of teen-agers could surpass the triumphant performances of four years ago.

Pokey Watson, the baby of the 1964 team, is now the outstanding prospect in the meter backstroke and the Santa Clara, Calif., lass is still but 18.

In the freestyle events the favorites are Debbie Meyer, 15, Jane Barkman, 16, Sue Pedersen, 14 and Eadie Wetzel, 15. Miss Pedersen also is a strong threat in the 200 and 400-meter individual medley races. Claudia Kolb, who won a silver medal at Tokyo in the 200 breaststroke, holds the world record in the 200 medley, and tries for the team again this year.

Rusty Staub's single off reliever Phil Regan drove in the first Houston run and Doug Rader's double brought in the tying run. Ron Santo clouted a solo homer for the Cubs.

Los Angeles jumped on starter Bob Bolin for three runs in the first inning but Mike McCormick came on to allow just two hits in the final 8½ as San Francisco sent the Dodgers to their seventh straight loss.

Willie McCovey and Ty Cline drove in two runs apiece for San Francisco. McCovey climaxed a three-run rally in the fifth inning by singling home the tie-breaking run.

Palmer Says No Comment Over Dispute With PGA

The revolt of the touring pros from the Professional Golfers' Association could reach another crucial stage at the Thunderbird Classic next week—with uncommitted Arnold Palmer the focal point.

Palmer, perhaps the greatest name in golf, declined to commit himself Friday after day-long talks with PGA president Max Elbin of Washington, D.C.

"I just don't think I'm in a position to comment at this stage," Palmer said after the meeting at his home in Latrobe, Pa.

The meeting appeared to be a move on the part of the PGA to keep Palmer loyal to the 52-year-old organization instead of the newly formed organization of the touring pros.

"We just had a long talk to explore the whole realm of this new situation," Palmer said.

The new situation was created this week when the touring pros broke with the established PGA and incorporated as the American Professional Golfers.

They agreed to honor all contracts for this year and two already signed for 1969 but then want to go it on their own, bucking the PGA for sponsors and television.

Palmer's name significantly has been missing from the leaders of the new group, who include Gardner Dickinson, Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper, Doug Ford, Dan Sikes and Frank Beard.

Chargertown Wins W. Va. Derby

$6,970 Paid In Perfecta Sets Record

Mrs. Walter R. Kelly's Chargertown, a handsome Florida-bred son of Royal Dourmar out of Motor Crane, won the eighth renewal of the $15,670 West Virginia Derby at Waterford Park Friday night.

Son I. Rob, the horse who had galloped away with last week's Derby Prep handicap, was second, while Frosty Hai finished with a belated burst of speed to gain the third spot on the board.

Croydon, the 4-5 favorite of the 5,589 fans, finished fourth, while Nobody But Nobody was fifth in the race.

The winner, who was shipped in for West Virginia's oldest and richest stakes race, from Delaware Park, was ridden by Ray Nakama. As the third choice in the betting, he paid $9.80, $4.60 and $3.80 across the board.

Son I. Rob was worth $3.60 and $3.00, while Frosty Hai paid $4.20 for the show.

Chargertown raced the mile and an eighth in 1:54 2-5 over the fast oval.

At the start of the race, Nobody But Nobody was fastest away with Chargertown and Croydon in closest pursuit. Son I. Rob was a good fourth going to the clubhouse turn, while Frosty Hai was far back in the rear.

The three in front fought a head and head duel to midway of the backstretch, where Chargertown gained command. Croydon took off almost immediately in an effort to stay with the leader.

Nobody But Nobody, who had done everything he could to stay in the race, began to give way as the blistering early pace took its toll.

Chargertown and Croydon raced head and head into the far turn, but with a little more than a quarter mile to go, Nakama sent his horse to the front with a bold move.

Quickly opening up on Croydon, Chargertown was five lengths in front in upper stretch.

Son I. Rob made his bid near the quarter mile grounds, and was closing fast, but the best he could do was to get within three lengths of the winner.

Frosty Hai was way back in third place.

Amaright and Eeyore, a pair of rank outsiders, combined for a record $6,970 perfecta payoff at Waterford Park Friday night.

There were only four tickets sold on the winning 9-8 combination.

Surprisingly, Amaright had won at Waterford just 11 days earlier, but hardly anyone in the crowd gave Amaright a second look.

As a result, Amaright paid $184.40, $56.40 and $9.40 across the board.

The longshot actually closed at odds of 99-1.

Eeyore was sent postward at odds of $9.90-1. He paid $45.20 and $8.40.

The fans made Bulpawaiti, a consistent race mare ridden by leading jockey Bill Sollars, the heavy favorite of the race. From the start, it was a battle between the trio. Amaright got the lead leaving the backstretch, and opened a clear advantage turning for home.

Eeyore, who was racing on the outside, closed with a rush, while Bulpawaiti, made a belated bid along the inside through the final furlong.

The three met at the wire, but there was no question as to the order of finish.

Amaright is a 5-year-old son of Goofoot out of Marlin Moon, and owned and trained by F. G. White, the longshot was ridden by Norman Reagan.

Wellsville Ousts Toot In Lisbon Softball Series

Wellsville Appliance eliminated Toot Trucking, champion of the Lisbon Softball League, in the league round-robin play-offs Friday night at Pine Tree Inn Field at Lisbon.

Larry Vermillion broke a 2-2 tie with a homer to give Wellsville a 3-2 victory. Pavelko also homered for the winners.

Jack Jackson, league manager and a member of the Truckers, could field only eight players and handled the pitching duties himself. Jerry Cannon pitched for Wellsville.

Jackson led the Truckers at bat with two doubles.

The Truckers lost only one game during the regular season and that to East Liverpool Merchants who finished second.

The Liverpool nine also beat the Truckers in the playoffs once - beaten Wellsville Appliance at 5:45 P.M. today at Pine Tree.

Since two defeats mean elimination, tonight's contest could turn into a doubleheader if Wellsville wins.

The league will wind up summer activity Sunday evening at Pine Tree with the All-Stars playing Toot Trucking at 6:30.

BEAVER LOCAL High School's varsity and reserve cheerleaders carried off their share of awards after attending the cheerleader camp at West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon, W. Va. this past week. The reserve cheerleaders won a first place trophy and the varsity a third place trophy for overall competition. The two squads also won eight ribbons with the reserves winning three first place awards. The teams included reserve cheerleaders (left, from bottom to top) Barbara Hamilton, Peggy Wiegand, Cathy Maragin, Terri Evelsizer and Cindy Bennett. The varsity squad (right) includes Jane Patterson, Alice Dunn, Vicki McDaniel, Wini Cloran, Diane Meek and Karen Wagner. Fifty schools and 250 cheerleaders competed.

3 Share Lead At 137 In Philly Golf Play

By RALPH BERNSTEIN PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The old adage that golf knows no age was never more evident as the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic started its third round today with three leaders.

Jim Ferrier, 53-year-old native Australian now a U.S. citizen; Bobby Cole, a pink-cheeked 20-year-old South African, and Billy Casper, who approaches a round of golf much the same as a banker does a day's work, were deadlocked with 36-hole totals of 137, seven under par.

It was no surprise to see Casper at the top of the field of 156 starters. The 37-year-old veteran has won four tournaments this year and earned $146,895. He's usually where the money is.

Ferrier and Cole, however, are longshots.

Ferrier was runner-up in the 1931 Australian Open, 17 years before Cole was born. Casper was wearing diapers.

Asked what he is doing still competing with players who could be his sons or grandsons, Ferrier admitted he played old-fashioned golf.

"I chipped and pitched and putted well," he said. "That always has been the whole game of golf. That's how Julie Boros (48 years old) has been winning all that money. I see old man Boros stumbling around out there and winning money and it keeps me playing."

Boros didn't make the cut. Jack Nicklaus was at 142 while U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino was at 141.

Browns Test New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Cleveland and New Orleans, ranked as the top and bottom teams respectively of the NFL's Century Division in preseason forecasts, tangle in an exhibition game here tonight.

As expected, the Browns, with quarterback Frank Ryan healthy, go into the clash as six-point favorites. They are 1-1 in preseason play; New Orleans, 1-2.

Saints Coach Tom Fears faced once again the problem of starting ailing quarterback Bill Kimer, whose pulled muscle injury hadn't healed. Kimer's backup men are rookie Ronnie South and newcomer Karl Sweetan.

The Browns, with Ryan aching from a variety of ailments, whacked the Saints 42-7 when they met last season.

Browns running back Leroy Kelley, an all-pro and rated by some as the best in the NFL, will apply additional pressure to the Saints defense.

A crowd of about 70,000 was expected at Tulane Stadium.

Mountaineer Loop Sets Tourney Dates

The Mountaineer League wrestling tournament will be held Dec. 14 at Wheeling Central, it was decided at the meeting of the league Monday night.

The cross-country championship will be held at Follinsbee in October with Harry Miller in charge.

Principal E. Russell Slack of Oak Glen, president of the league, was in charge of the meeting. Others attending from Oak Glen were Thomas Salvati, Kenneth Evans and Alan Hoover.

Defense Bolstered

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A new defense outlook and a pair of sophomore running backs hold keys to 1968 success for the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League.

Halfback Dick Post and fullback Brad Hubbard are the young runners whom Coach Sid Gillman hopes will pick up where they finished their 1967 rookie years—ranking fourth and fifth among AFL rushers.

Gillman also lists these reasons why the Chargers should improve on their 1967 third-place standing in the Western Division: "We have greater purpose, a finer attitude and a few more people to help. We've changed design and changed coaching. The people we have now just want to do it."

A Charger championship? "We don't look that far ahead," says Sid.

Gillman brought in Chuck Weber from the Boston Patriots to help revamp the defensive secondary that was the league's worst a year ago.

The Chargers also have realigned the defensive line in an attempt to stage a better pass rush. Veterans Steve De Long and Houston Ridge are at the ends, while 6-foot-7 Ron Billingsley and veteran Scott Appleton are the tackles.

The No. 1 rookie—6-foot-6, 205-pound Russ Washington—is contending for a starting tackle job.

Middle linebacker Chuck Allen, in his eighth season, anchors a group depleted by the retirement of John Baker and departure of Frank Buncom to Cincinnati. Rick Redman and Jeff Staggs serve as outside linebackers.

Cornerman Leslie Duncan and strong safety Ken Graham have returned, with sophomore pro Bobby Howard winning a corner job.

Rookies Jim Hill and Richard Farley and young pros Joe Beauchamp and Jim Tolbert are seeking the free safety position.

Offensively, the Chargers are loaded.

Veterans Paul Lowe and Gene Foster have been pushing Post and Hubbard for varsity status as running backs.

Mrs. Patterson Wins Ladies Club Title

Mrs. Robert Patterson ruled as Club Champion at the East Liverpool Country Club after defeating Mrs. W. L. Smith 2-1 Friday.

Mrs. Patterson carded a 92 hole playoff.

The popular gardenia, a tropical flower, was named in honor of Alexander Garden, a Scottish naturalist who lived in South Carolina during the American Revolutionary War.

Va. this past week. The reserve cheerleaders won a first place trophy and the varsity a third place trophy for overall competition. The two squads also won eight ribbons with the reserves winning three first place awards. The teams include reserve cheerleaders (left, from bottom to top) Barbara Hamilton, Peggy Wiegand, Cathy Maragin, Terri Evelizer and Cindy Bennett. The varsity squad (right) includes Jane Patterson, Alice Dunn, Vicki McDaniel, Wini Cloran, Diane Meek and Karen Wagner. Fifty schools and 250 cheerleaders competed.

Toledo's Lead Cut To 2 Games

Twelve days ago, after Toledo had swept two games at Richmond to boost its International League lead to 6 1/2 games, some body asked Mud Hen Manager Jack Tighe how it felt to have a pennant in his future.

"What pennant?" Tighe snorted. "We haven't won anything yet."

Events are making him a prophet.

3 Share Lead At 137 In Philly Golf Play

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The old adage that golf knows no age was never more evident as the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic started its third round today with three leaders.

Jim Ferrier, 53-year-old native Australian now a U.S. citizen; Bobby Cole, a pink-cheeked 20-year-old South African, and Billy Casper, who approaches a round of golf much the same as a banker does a day's work, were deadlocked with 36-hole totals of 137, seven under par.

It was no surprise to see Casper at the top of the field of 156 starters. The 37-year-old veteran has won four tournaments this year and earned $146,895. He's usually where the money is.

Ferrier and Cole, however, are longshots.

Ferrier was runner-up in the 1931 Australian Open, 17 years before Cole was born. Casper was wearing diapers.

Asked what he is doing still competing with players who could be his sons or grandsons, the greying Californian replied: "You can chase the little white ball long after you've stopped chasing everything else. You get old fast enough without looking for it. I can play in the Seniors later."

Looking fit at 6-foot-2 and 180 pounds, Ferrier shot a 34-35-69 over the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course Friday. Cole, who tied for second in the opening round, fired a 35-35-70 while Casper carded a 34-35-69.

They led by a stroke over Charlie Sifford, Labron Harris and Terry Dill.

Ferrier admitted he played old-fashioned golf.

"I chipped and pitched and putted well," he said. "That always has been the whole game of golf. That's how Julie Boros (48 years old) has been winning all that money. I see old man Boros stumbling around out there and winning money and it keeps me playing."

Boros didn't make the cut. Jack Nicklaus was at 142 while U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino was at 141.

Browns Test New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Cleveland and New Orleans, ranked as the top and bottom teams respectively of the NFL's Century Division in preseason forecasts, tangle in an exhibition game here tonight.

As expected, the Browns, with quarterback Frank Ryan healthy, go into the clash as six point favorites. They are 1-1 in preseason play; New Orleans, 1-2.

Saints Coach Tom Fears faced once again the problem of starting ailing quarterback Bill Kilmer, whose pulled muscle injury hadn't healed. Kilmer's backup men are rookie Ronnie South and newcomer Karl Sweetan.

The Browns, with Ryan aching from a variety of ailments, whacked the Saints 42-7 when they met last season.

Browns running back Leroy Kelley, an all-pro and rated by some as the best in the NFL, will apply additional pressure to the Saints defense.

A crowd of about 70,000 was expected at Tulane Stadium.

Mountaineer Loop Sets Tourney Dates

The Mountaineer League wrestling tournament will be held Dec. 14 at Wheeling Central, it was decided at the meeting of the league Monday night.

The cross-country championship will be held at Follinsbee in October with Harry Miller in charge.

Principal E. Russell Slack of Oak Glen, president of the league, was in charge of the meeting. Others attending from Oak Glen were Thomas Salvati, Kenneth Evans and Alan Hoover.

Japan, Virginia Little Leaguers Meet For Title

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — When the Wakayama, Japan, baseball team bids "sayonara" to this Pennsylvania community, it hopes to take along a little souvenir of America—the Little League World Series trophy.

Wakayama meets Richmond, Va., today in a nationally televised match to determine the world's Little League champion.

Both teams reached the finals with a display of hitting, pitching—and spirit.

For the Richmond team, boosters were everywhere, flooding the Williamsport area with confederate flags and rebel cries.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Epilepsy Folk Tales Disproved

Much harm has been done in the past by an assumption that epilepsy is an inherited disease. Seventeen years ago, 19 states had laws prohibiting the marriage of epileptics. This was based on the belief that any offspring of such a marriage would become a public charge.

SINCE THEN, the possibility that heredity is a factor in causing epilepsy has been carefully studied and authorities have concluded that laws restricting the right of epileptics to marry are entirely without justification.

ONE BY ONE all the states except West Virginia have dropped such laws and it is unlikely that that state will retain the prohibition much longer. Epilepsy is not inherited. The further our genetic experts work now is to say that a predisposition to epilepsy may be carried as a recessive trait. There now seems to be little solid evidence for even such an assumption, but old ideas die hard.

THE CAUSE OF this disease is still a mystery in many cases but there is growing evidence that head injuries or brain damage, the origin of which cannot always be pinpointed, are the causes in many cases. Anyone who would like more detailed information on the nature of this disease and on the employability of epileptics may write to The Epilepsy Foundation, 1419 H St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

Q—I have what my doctor calls scalenus muscle spasms on the right side of my chest. I get it whenever I get excited and the pain lasts about 15 minutes. How can I prevent these spells?

A—If you have the scalenus anticus syndrome, this is caused by the scalenus anticus muscle in your neck pressing on the nerves in your brachial plexus. This may cause pain, tingling or numbness in the shoulder and arm on the affected side rather than the chest, and the pain is more likely to be caused by raising your arm over your head than by nervous tension. In any case, the exact cause of the spasms should be determined. Chlorzhanone (Trancopal) and chlorphenesin (Maolate), both prescription drugs, are often effective in relieving muscle spasms.

Q—Why do they sell LSD if it is harmful to one's brain?

A—Traffic in this drug is illegal.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Mostly From McCarthy Aides

West Virginia Delegates Deluged With Literature

CHARLESTON — Bundles of campaign literature, most of them from supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, are swamping West Virginia's 14 uncommitted delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

But with the convention only three days away, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey continues to hold an overwhelming lead among the state's 38-member delegation and may be picking up more.

An Associated Press poll shows Humphrey with 20 publicly committed votes and possible support from three officially uncommitted delegates who say they now lean to him.

MCCARTHY has four solid votes and possibly two more from the uncommitted camp. Other uncommitted delegates say they are leaning to South Dakota Sen. George McGovern and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Robert Hedrick of Elkins, who supported the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, said he has received mail "from all over the country asking me to vote for McCarthy. But I haven't got anything from Humphrey."

He said he couldn't support McCarthy because "I want somebody who can be for something and McCarthy is against too much stuff."

Kelly Castleberry of South Charleston, an uncommitted delegate, also said he has received both phone calls and hundreds of pieces of mail from the McCarthy people.

There has been increasing speculation among state delegates about a move to draft President Johnson.

HEDRICK said he remains uncommitted, but would favor a Johnson draft.

Hedrick said growing support of the President is due partly to the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia and what he called a letup in the Vietnam fighting.

Troy S. Bailey of Bridgeport, who is leaning to Humphrey, said the Czechoslovakian crisis has convinced him "now more than ever that there is a definite possibility of drafting President Johnson."

Summersville Mayor William S. Bryant, a Humphrey delegate, also has said a Johnson draft cannot be ignored.

Andrew L. Clark of Princeton, who is learning to Humphrey while remaining officially uncommitted, said a move to nominate Sen. Robert C. Byrd as a favorite son apparently has died. Clark said Byrd "isn't putting himself in that position."

Robert J. Burke of Wheeling will be McCarthy's floor leader for West Virginia and Kentucky at the convention and John M. McGuire of Morgantown has been in Chicago the past three days working in the Minnesota senator's behalf.

West Virginia delegates officially will put their preferences on record at their first formal caucus at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Ohio Delegates Being Eyed By Sen. McGovern

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern set out Friday to woo Ohio delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

At a special meeting here Friday with a handful of the state's 126 delegates, McGovern promised whatever the outcome of the convention, he would not split the party.

"I pledge no matter how the convention resolves the question of the presidential nomination, I am going to be supporting the nominee of our party," the South Dakotan said.

Describing himself as a "be-lated entry" in the Democratic party presidential race, McGovern added: "I didn't get in to this as a spoiling operation."

He said he would support either Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey or Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy if either is nominated and would campaign for the Minnesota senator.

McGovern did not say he would campaign for Humphrey. The Ohio delegation has invited McGovern to address it at the convention Monday in Chicago and he said he would outline his platform to delegates at that time.

Junior Editors Quiz on OSTRICH

QUESTION: Is it true that an ostrich buries his head in the ground when alarmed?

ANSWER: No, this is just a fable. One of the reasons for this false notion is that the ostrich, largest of living birds, has a very bulky body, but only a thin, scrawny neck bare of feathers. From a distance, you see the body, but the thin neck may be hardly visible and you might think the head was underground. The ostrich is a magnificent runner, stretching off like this, the bird can outrun a man or a horse. But the poor old ostrich is not very smart and can't get over the silly notion that it should run in a circle. Result: a group of horsemen, coming from different directions, can easily surround the bird and kill it with arrows, spears or guns. There used to be great flocks of ostriches in Africa and Asia. They got along well enough until there was a demand for the soft, elegant-looking ostrich plumes. Now they are scarce in their native countries. However, ostrich farms have been successful in South Africa, Algeria and Argentina as well as the United States.

(Beth Wheaton of San Carlos, Calif., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Saturday, Aug. 24, the 237th day of 1968. There are 129 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1814, British troops captured Washington D.C., and burned the capitol and White House.
On this date:
In 79 A.D., an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in Italy buried the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum.
In 1954, President Getulio Vargas of Brazil killed himself after his government had been overthrown by the Brazilian army.
Ten years ago — Racial violence erupted in Nottingham, England, as hundreds of whites and Negroes fought.
Five years ago — The government of South Vietnam closed Saigon University and all public and private secondary schools as student unrest mounted.
One year ago — Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser died at the age of 85.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Saturday, Aug. 24, the 237th day of 1968. There are 129 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1814, British troops captured Washington D.C., and burned the capitol and White House.
On this date:
In 79 A.D., an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in Italy buried the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum.
In 1934, President Getulio Vargas of Brazil killed himself after his government had been overthrown by the Brazilian army.

Ten years ago — Racial violence erupted in Nottingham, England, as hundreds of whites and Negroes fought.

Five years ago — The government of South Vietnam closed Saigon University and all public and private secondary schools as student unrest mounted.

One year ago — Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser died at the age of 85.

Committee's Still Puzzled Over Georgia

CHICAGO (AP) — Georgia remained a puzzle on the Democratic Credentials Committee's mind today as the panel closed a grueling week of public hearings with a move to unseat Alabama delegates who work for the third-party presidential bid of ex-Gov. George C. Wallace.

Committee Chairman Richard J. Hughes took time out from his Georgia peacemaking efforts to announce that a modified loyalty oath would be slapped on Alabama's delegates to next week's Democratic National Convention.

The oath "is sort of a pledge against disloyalty," the New Jersey governor said as he ended five days of 10 to 14-hour public sessions on an unprecedented flood of seating contests.

Except for closing the gap between two rival Georgia delegations, all that remained was a meeting with the Democratic National Committee and an executive session to work on a final report that Hughes said would "probe very deeply into party reforms."

It might, he said, recommend changes in the way delegates are selected, an issue in more than half of the cases heard this week.

The Georgia solution, worked out in a series of angry, closed-door debates, was a committee decision to seat portions of two rival delegations. It would freeze out Gov. Lester Maddox, a Wallace sympathizer and a late entry into the Democratic race.

But it ran into strong objections from Maddox, who threatened a floor fight.

Sources close to the competing delegation headed by Negro Georgia legislator Julian Bond reported a willingness to accept the committee decision, provided a list of acceptable delegates can be agreed upon.

If there was no agreement by Saturday afternoon, Hughes said, Georgia's total votes at the convention might have to be reduced.

On its final public day, the committee unanimously rejected challenges to the Indiana and Michigan delegations, and put down one to North Carolina with 20 negative votes.

Dinner Planned By Area Bankers

The annual banquet of the area chapter of the American Institute of Banking will be held Nov. 9 at the Weirton Motor Lodge.

Plans for the event were discussed during a dinner meeting this week at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville of the board of governors.

Board members attending included Richard Emmerling, vice president of the First National Bank, and Donald McGillivray, vice president of the Potters Bank and Trust Co. here.

C. Michael of the Peoples Bank of Weirton is the incoming chapter president.

Negro Angered Over Summons

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negro Councilman George L. Forbes, mad about the way he received a summons, testified before the County grand jury Friday, then said:

"The next time black folks start tearing up the white folks' town I ain't going to stop them."

The grand jury is investigating last month's sniper shooting in the predominantly Negro Glenville area where 10 persons were shot to death, including three policemen.

Forbes, a Democrat whose ward includes the area where the shooting occurred, said a summons to appear would have been sufficient, or "even a phone call."

"But to have three policemen come barging into my office with a summons and escort me downtown is an insult. No wonder there are riots," he added.

The spider coats its legs with an oily substance from its mouth, thus protecting itself against the sticky web.

Auto Insurance Rate Hikes OK'd In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Auto insurance rate hikes totaling $4.9 million for 221 companies was approved Friday by State Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell.

The companies are members of the Insurance Rating Board and write 33 per cent of liability and 49 per cent of physical damage coverage in Pennsylvania. The increases effective Sept. 11, will average 4.8 per cent, Maxwell said, noting it was their first boost in three years.

On April 16, Maxwell rejected an earlier request for an $11.2 million increase on the ground the companies had failed to include investment income on assets when they listed un-

Man In Collision Given Jail Term

Darwin Stowers, 24, of 744 1/2 Leonard St., whose auto hit two parked cars Thursday night at E. 6th and Washington Sts., was fined $200 and costs and given a three-day jail sentence when he pleaded guilty Friday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Stowers also was given a concurrent three-day jail term on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. Stowers said his permit expired in June. The court ordered he will not be permitted to apply for a new license for 90 days.

Stowers' car rounded the turn at E. 6th and Washington Sts. and hit a parked car owned by William Shuman of Newell, shoving it into another parked auto owned by William Tomchay of Charleroi, Pa., police reported.

Texan Shoots 3 Daughters, Kills Himself

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A 63-year-old father ordered his three young daughters to kneel and say their prayers in a Dallas hotel Friday, then shot all three in the head and killed himself, police said.

One of the girls, Phyllis Cannon, 9, died a few hours after the shooting, Pamela Cannon, 13, and Patricia Cannon, 11, remained in critical condition late Friday night.

Officers said the father, John Overton Cannon of suburban Irving, had been shot in the right temple at close range and that a .32-caliber revolver was clutched in his right hand.

Investigators said Cannon had gone to the home of his estranged wife early Friday afternoon and picked up the girls, ostensibly to buy school clothes.

Pamela told officers they had checked into the hotel room and the father ordered them to kneel and say their prayers. She struggled with him and was shot in the head but managed to get to the hotel lobby.

Except for closing the gap between two rival Georgia delegations, all that remained was a meeting with the Democratic National Committee and an executive session to work on a final report that Hughes said would "probe very deeply into party reforms."

It might, he said, recommend changes in the way delegates are selected, an issue in more than half of the cases heard this week.

The Georgia solution, worked out in a series of angry, closed-door debates, was a committee decision to seat portions of two rival delegations. It would freeze out Gov. Lester Maddox, a Wallace sympathizer and a late entry into the Democratic race.

But it ran into strong objections from Maddox, who threatened a floor fight.

Sources close to the competing delegation headed by Negro Georgia legislator Julian Bond reported a willingness to accept the committee decision, provided a list of acceptable delegates can be agreed upon.

If there was no agreement by Saturday afternoon, Hughes said, Georgia's total votes at the convention might have to be reduced.

On its final public day, the committee unanimously rejected challenges to the Indiana and Michigan delegations, and put down one to North Carolina with 20 negative votes.

Dinner Planned By Area Bankers

The annual banquet of the area chapter of the American Institute of Banking will be held Nov. 9 at the Weirton Motor Lodge.

Plans for the event were discussed during a dinner meeting this week at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville of the board of governors.

Board members attending included Richard Emmerling, vice president of the First National Bank, and Donald McGillivray, vice president of the Pottery Bank and Trust Co. here.

C. Michael of the Peoples Bank of Weirton is the incoming chapter president.

Negro Angered Over Summons

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negro Councilman George L. Forbes, mad about the way he received a summons, testified before the County grand jury Friday, then said:

"The next time black folks start tearing up the white folks' town I ain't going to stop them."

The grand jury is investigating last month's sniper shooting in the predominantly Negro Glenville area where 10 persons were shot to death, including three policemen.

Forbes, a Democrat whose ward includes the area where the shooting occurred, said a summons to appear would have been sufficient, or "even a phone call."

"But to have three policemen come barging into my office with a summons and escort me downtown is an insult. No wonder there are riots," he added.

The spider coats its legs with an oily substance from its mouth, thus protecting itself against the sticky web.

Man In Collision Given Jail Term

Darwin Stowers, 24, of 744 1/2 Leonard St., whose auto hit two parked cars Thursday night at E. 6th and Washington Sts., was fined $200 and costs and given a three-day jail sentence when he pleaded guilty Friday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Stowers also was given a concurrent three-day jail term on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. Stowers said his permit expired in June. The court ordered he will not be permitted to apply for a new license for 90 days.

Stowers' car rounded the turn at E. 6th and Washington Sts. and hit a parked car owned by William Shuman of Newell, shoving it into another parked auto owned by William Tomchay of Charleroi, Pa., police reported.

Texan Shoots 3 Daughters, Kills Himself

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A 63-year-old father ordered his three young daughters to kneel and say their prayers in a Dallas hotel Friday, then shot all three in the head and killed himself, police said.

One of the girls, Phyllis Cannon, 9, died a few hours after the shooting. Pamela Cannon, 13, and Patricia Cannon, 11, remained in critical condition late Friday night.

Officers said the father, John Overton Cannon of suburban Irving, had been shot in the right temple at close range and that a .32-caliber revolver was clutched in his right hand.

Investigators said Cannon had gone to the home of his estranged wife early Friday afternoon and picked up the girls, ostensibly to buy school clothes.

Pamela told officers they had checked into the hotel room and the father ordered them to kneel and say their prayers. She struggled with him and was shot in the head but managed to get to the hotel lobby.

Personalities In The News

ROME (AP) — One of Czechoslovakia's best known movie directors, Jiri Weiss, has requested political asylum in Italy.

The 55-year-old director came to Rome the day before the Russian invasion and had just sold American distribution rights of his latest movie, "Murder, Czech Style," to Columbia Pictures.

Weiss is noted for his films "Wolftrap," which won a critics award in Venice 10 years ago, and more recently for "Romeo and Juliette and Darkness" and "Night in the Shade."

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. Joan Fisher, a sparkling 29-year-old brown-haired homemaker who also takes part in politics and several other things, is the new Mrs. America.

The Salt Lake City, Utah, part-time schoolteacher and mother of three children was crowned in ceremonies Friday night at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds.

A Republican district treasurer in her home state, she finds time for such hobbies as sewing, cooking, piano, and flower-making.

Her husband Byron, an attorney, was on hand during the 10-day countdown of special events to determine the winner, and could rejoice about one special achievement: His wife took first place in the safe driving competition. She was finalist in several other events.

DETROIT (AP) — "The problem is I cry a lot—about anything, happy or sad. I just can't see myself with black mascara streaking down my face and my eyelashes floating away."

"That," says 24-year-old Diane Podkova, "is why I'm going to let myself be hypnotized when I get married."

The suburban Warren school teacher is being married Sept. 7 to Tom Schoenith, 25.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Christabel Troxel, 80, decided she'd worked enough so she has quit the Union Pacific Railroad after 52 years as a stenographer and clerk. That convinced her sister Maud, 77, and she too is resigning—after 51 years with the railroad.

AFT Convention Ends

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Federation of Teachers convention ended Friday with delegates voting unanimously in support of a resolution calling for greater community responsibility and representation in the operation of schools.
